ONE OF BANDITS LATER CAPTURED

Believe Fugitive Responsible For Second Hold-Up At Mercer Today

(Special To The News)

MERCER, Pa., Dec. 18.—State police early today fought a running gun battle with two bandits who held up a gasoline filling station, and captured one suspect after a two-mile chase along Perry highway and two miles across a field.

The suspect gave his name as Joseph Lance, 19, of Ebensburg, who, state police said, had recently been paroled from the state industrial school at Huntingdon.

State police said he identified his companion as Don Conrad, 24, of Cresson, and told them he believed Conrad had been wounded. Both Conrad and Lance were paroled from Huntingdon just a short time ago, police said.

During the chase, an attempt was made to wreck the automobile in which Corp. William Brush and Private J. E. Taylor of the state po-

New Castle stores, open on Thursday evening for the start of the evening holiday shopping, drew large crowds. The holiday business this year is much greater than for some years, it is indicated. The stores will be open every evening of week days until Christmas.

A new 1937 license tag from the state of Indiana was seen on the downtown streets Thursday evening. This new plate closely resembles the 1936 tags of Pennsylvania. However, there is a light variation in the shade of blue. The yellow background however is identical with our '36 plates.

Along Friendship street hill a group of youngsters have constructed a shanty that rivals that of Mickey McGuire and his gang of Toonerville fame. The boys gather in their home-made club after school hours to while away the time.

Standing majestically in the yard of the Pennsylvania Power substation, Cedar street, is a most attractive tree which forms a picturesque sight in the evenings. Another cleverly arranged tree is standing in the yard of the West Washington street P.-O. station.

Spanish Rebel Shells Drop Near U.S. Cruiser

(BULLETIN)
(International News Service)

GIJON, Spain, Dec. 18.—Spanish rebel shells roaring from the cruiser Espana came perilously close to the United States cruiser Erie and nearly involved America in a grave international incident, officers of the warship said on their arrival here today.

Three 305 millimeter shells fell within 300 yards of the Erie, the officers said, while the American ship was cruising off the northern Spanish coast.

As the shells dropped into the sea, sending up huge geysers, the Erie quickly ran up the American colors, and at once the Espana turned tail and steamed off.

The Erie had stripped her guns for action when the Espana fled but then proceeded to Musel Harbor, where she is now anchored. Seven shells were fired from the Espana in the one-sided engagement.

Explanation Not Evident

The officers were at a loss to account for the shooting, pointing out that obviously the rebel commanders on the Espana could hard-

Mrs. Simpson Denies Reports Of Disagreement Over Her Wedding Plans

By KINGSBURY SMITH

(World Copyright, 1936, by International News Service, Reproduction in Whole or Part Strictly Prohibited)

LONDON, Dec. 18.—In an exclusive, authorized statement to International News Service at her temporary residence in Cannes, Mrs. Wallis Warfiled Simpson today disclosed her future rests entirely in the hands of the man who gave up the throne of England for love of her.

At the same time, she took occasion to deny reports she had disagreed with former King Edward of England over their wedding plans—particularly that she wishes an elaborate marriage ceremony while he desires a quiet, civil marriage only.

At present, she said, she is not in a position to make any plans for the future—either in connection with the wedding or regarding the possibility of returning to the United States at some future time with the ex-king as her husband.

Will Not See Him Soon

Furthermore, she said she does not expect to see him at any time within the next few weeks, thus disposing of persistent reports she plans to join him in his Austrian exile, and that she desires more than anything else to remain in quiet and seclusion and out of the limelight.

Mrs. Simpson's statement was made in the form of answers to a series of questions submitted to her by this correspondent. Maintaining the position she cannot grant interviews, she replied to the questions in the third person by telephone from the Villa Lou Viei at Cannes. The questions and answers follow:

VOLANT BANK ROBBED AGAIN ABOUT 2 P. M.

(BULLETIN 2:30 P. M.)

About two o'clock this afternoon, the same bandits who robbed the First National Bank at Volant several months ago, made a return visit to the bank, held up cashier Phil Cox, and his assistant Mrs. Mabel Brown, secured about $4,000 in cash and made their escape.

The bandits, who cashier Cox says are the same pair that robbed the bank a few weeks since, entered the bank and at the point of a revolver forced Cashier Cox to open the safe in the vault and hand out the money. Cox believes that about $4,000 was taken by the bandits.

They fled from the bank building and boarded an auto, a Ford V-8, and drove towards New Wilmington.

State police are on the case.

Cox fired several shots in the direction of the bandits as they fled, but none was hit.

Renew Efforts To Find Plane With 7 Aboard

Favorable Weather Will Be Great Aid In Hunt For Missing Airliner

Seventeen Planes In Searching Party From Air, Hundreds Scour Mountains

(International News Service)

SALT LAKE CITY, Utah, Dec. 18—Airmen bent renewed effort today to force the forbidding Wasatch mountains or Utah Lake waters to divulge the fate of the missing Los Angeles-Salt Lake airliner carrying two women and five men.

They have no hope now of finding alive any of the seven passengers on the luxury liner which disappeared from the storm-swept airlanes before dawn last Tuesday.

Hope To Locate Plane

Their only yearning is for the reward of finding the missing transport before drifting winter snows bury it to such depths only spring thaws will reveal its grim secret.

Air officials claim this is no idle fear as nearly every plane observed Thursday reported brisk ground winds on the south slopes of the rocky canyon and ground crews asserted drifted snow made progress slow and uncertain.

All day yesterday, men afoot and on horseback plodded slowly foot by foot over granite crests as planes circled and re-circled over the Al-

Plan To Complete Highway Paving

COUNTY BOARD GETS PROPOSAL

County commissioners have received a letter from the state highway department at Harrisburg, signifying the readiness of the department to improve the Ben Franklin highway from a point where the concrete ends beyond the new bridge at Edenburg to the Ohio line. The improvement is estimated to cost $350,000 and the county is asked to bear the expense of any damages.

If the road is built there will be an entirely new right of way from a point near the Miller farm on the Edenburg-Hillsville road to the Ohio state line, at a point a short distance north of Carbon. It will pass through the Union Limestone quarry and the New Castle Lime and Stone Company properties and several others, leaving Hillsville to the left of the road.

The stretch which it is proposed to build is the only unimproved section of the Ben Franklin highway between Baltimore, Md., and Den-

Police Officer Murders Five At Duquesne

SLAYS PERSONS IN FIVE HOMES IN CITY

Three Of Victims Are Women; Two Wounded In Addition To Those Slain

(International News Service)

PITTSBURGH, Dec. 18.—Shot by a 63-year-old policeman maddened by a desire for revenge because of his arrest for molesting a 10-year-old girl, five persons, three of them women, were dead in suburban Duquesne today.

Escaping momentarily from a constable who was taking him to jail, the policeman, Martin Sullivan, sped over more than a mile of hilly streets and visited five different homes on his mission of death. He shot and killed the parents of his 21-year-old housekeeper, the mother and brother of the girl he was accused of attacking and a woman social service worker who had investigated the case.

The girl's father was shot and seriously wounded and her brother was grazed by a bullet on the ankle.

Surrenders After Shooting

His gun empty, Sullivan surrendered quietly to the constable, Thomas L. Gallagher, and was rushed to jail where detectives, aroused by the orgy of killings, had congregated.

After his surrender, Sullivan talked of the killings with little more emotion than if he were discussing a baseball game.

Shooting Occurs In Freight Office On S. Mill Street

Sam Ross, Chief Clerk In Office Is Shot Three Times By Trucker

POLICE ARREST HIS ASSAILANT

Ross' Condition Is Reported As Critical—Reason For Attack Is Not Clear

Sam Ross, age 41, of 222 Edgewood avenue, was shot three times, possibly fatally, by Pasqualle George, age 59, of 109 East Home street in the B. & O. railroad freight station at the corner of South Mill and Division streets at 8:20 a. m. today, according to the police. Ross is in a critical condition in the New Castle hospital and George is held in the city jail. According to statements obtained by police, George is believed to have suffered from imagined statements he believed Ross made.

Ross, who is employed as chief clerk at the freight station was standing near a desk in his office, when George, who is employed as a freight trucker and who has worked for the company 33 years, came from the warehouse into the office. When 15 feet away he opened fire with a .32 calibre revolver, police say. Two bullets lodged below Ross' left shoulder blade and the third entered his body below his right shoulder blade.

George then put the revolver in his pocket and left the building through the rear, it is reported to the police. A call was sent to police headquarters and cruiser cars filled with police sped to the freight house. When they arrived they found Miss Katherine McDowell seated on the floor holding Ross and S. H. Rhoads, freight agent, Ed Ramer and Miss Ann Eagan also employes, in the room.

With all the football bowls there are, permit us just one sally, they'll soon be playing football in some sheltered bowling alley. For now we have across the land a flock of big "bowl games" and each one strives for something chic in settling on names. The Rose Bowl and the Cotton Bowl the Sugar Bowl all claim that they are tops in what it takes to make a football game. But I suspect that all of them are gravy bowls you see, they pay off heavy every year, the weather's thirty three.

Lions Give Christmas Dinner For Blind Here

Thirty-three sightless residents of the New Castle district were honor guests last night at the annual Christmas holiday dinner party of the Lions club and the Ladies of the Lions at the Epworth Methodist Episcopal church.

The evening celebration, now an event to which the blind look forward for months, was one of the merriest of the many holiday affairs that have been held. The Christmas spirit predominated.

Dinner — a delicious one — was served the blind guests and the Lions men and their ladies at 7 o'clock by women of the Epworth church, and the program, presided over by Roy F. Conway, chairman of the blind work committee of the club, consumed much of the evening.

There was music and speaking to keep the throng entertained—and the guests, unable though some of them were to see the attractive table decoration and the illuminated Christmas tree which had been set up, enjoyed themselves from the beginning to the end of it.

Sing Christmas Carols

After a song period in which the crowd sang Christmas carols under the direction of Ezra D. Marvin, a former district governor of the Lions, President Numa F. Vidal, Jr., extended the welcome of the Lions and their ladies to the guests. The pianist for the singing was none other than Gerald McElhaney, one of the most popular the city knows.

President Vidal introduced Mr. Conway and called upon him to "run the show" for the rest of the evening after voicing his brief but hearty welcome.

After briefly reviewing the history of the annual parties, Mr. Con-

ARRESTS MADE FOR THREATS

Reports Reach French Police

Declares Information Indicates Arrests Abroad For Letters To Mrs. Simpson

NO ARRESTS MADE ON THE RIVIERA

By ROBERT CHASSEUIL
International News Service Staff Correspondent

CANNES, Dec. 18.—The French surete generale has received information from abroad, it was believed today, that more than one arrest has been made in foreign countries of persons accused of writing threatening letters to Mrs. Wallis Simpson.

Cannes and Monte Carlo police affirmed that no arrests had been made along the Riviera, but authorities would not repudiate reports that some threatening letters had been traced abroad, and arrests made.

Riviera police commented on the fact that practically none of the threatening letters came from France, even though the desire of business and hotel people here that Mrs. Simpson leave is increasing.

England and Canada contribute the bulk of the letters to Mrs. Simpson, the police said, but the United States runs a good third.

Police scoffed, however, at reports published in the United States last week that Mrs. Simpson's food was regularly tested for poisoning, pointing out that the threatening missives only began pouring in this week.

way called upon District Governor Earl T. Ramsey, a member of the club, and former District Governor Ezra D. Marvin, another local member, for short speeches.

Governor Ramsey told the group of the growth of Lionism since its founding in 1917 and former Governor Marvin paid tribute to the generosity of Fred L. Rentz, an honorary member of the club, who, each Christmas season, provides the club with "a substantial check" for the conduct of its worthy blind work.

The Rev. D. L. Ferguson, pastor of Highland U. P. church, and one of the Lions members, then sang two vocal solos, "Danny Boy" and "Roamin' in the Gloamin," with Mr. McElhaney as his accompanist.

The principal speaker of the evening, S. DeGraff Pearson, this city, was next introduced and for some time held the group's close interest by his timely and descriptive story of Egypt's Valley of the Kings, the ruins of which Mr. Pearson has personally visited and studied.

Tells Of Organization

Shortly after Mr. Pearson finished, Thomas Fontana, president of the newly organized blind group in Lawrence county, was introduced. He urged the blind residents to become members of it. Another well known blind guest introduced for a short talk was Miss Mary Moorehead.

At the close Toastmaster Conway introduced Mrs. C. J. Streib, chairman of the blind work committee of the Ladies of the Lions, and asked her to commence distributing the gifts which the blind receive each year.

Mr. Conway introduced as his committee members, A Leland Houk, Earl R. Wimer, Dr. A. H. Borland, James G. Leslie and Dr. R. G. Campbell, and Mrs. Streib's assistants were announced as Mrs. Earl T. Ramsey and Mrs. John Staudinger.

During the evening dinner hour a group of members of the Senior high school orchestra played.

At the speakers' table were President and Mrs. Vidal, District Governor and Mrs. Ramsey, former Governor and Mrs. Marvin and Mr. and Mrs. Conway, Rev. and Mrs. Ferguson, Mr. Pearson and Secretary and Mrs. Thomas I. Elliott.

Group Of Honor Guests

The 33 blind residents of the district who were honor guests at the party were:

Mary Aiello, Eddie Brown, C. A. Campbell, James Criscito, William Doyle, William Fair, Thomas Fontana, Geneva Gerber, Gerald Hammill, Dorothy Hunter, Mrs. Catherine Johnston, Margaret Klingensmith, Richard Krause, Jennings B. chair, but I'm not sorry," he told District Attorney Andrew T. Park.

As detectives looked at him in amazement, he became restless and inquired:

"What's the matter with you? You look at me as if I was insane.'"

The Victims

These were the dead:

Joseph Benda, 50, father of Sullivan's housekeeper; Helen Benda, 52, his wife; Mary Vukelja, 48, who accused Sullivan of mistreating her daughter; Milan Vukelja, 23, her son; Mrs. Laura Clawson Bacon, 58, a divorced social worker who investigated the charges against Sullivan.

The wounded were: Joseph Vukelja, 52, father of the little girl, who was recovering in McKeesport hospital; and Walter Vukelja, 13, brother of the girl, grazed on the ankle by a bullet.

Slaughter Last Night

The slaughter began a few minutes after 8 o'clock last night after Patrolman Sullivan had been held for court without bail at a hearing before Alderman C. Dewain King, in Duquesne, on a charge of assault with intent to rape. With Gallagher, who had brought him to the hearing, Sullivan left the alderman's office, to go to the Duquesne jail to spend the night before being transferred to the Allegheny County jail.

Gallagher later explained he had known Sullivan for 30 years always as a "quiet fellow" and for that reason did not believe it necessary to handcuff him as he was taking him from the alderman's office to the jail.

Flees Constable

As they passed the jail, Sullivan persuaded Gallagher, his friend of 30 years, to allow him to see his son before he was locked up.

Gallagher waited outside at the home of the son, Martin Sullivan, Jr., as the policeman went in. The son was not at home and Sullivan left through a back window, police said.

He ran eight blocks up a hillside, turned and ran a half mile more to his own home. There Sullivan grabbed his gun, a .38 calibre, and a box of shells.

Returning two blocks, he stopped first at the Benda home. He entered quietly, went up the stairway to the second floor apartment, entered the kitchen and steadied himself with a glass of water.

Begins Shooting

The elder Benda came in and Sullivan asked for Mrs. Benda. When Benda brought her into the kitchen, Sullivan began shooting. He leaped out of the house, leaving two victims dying.

Then the crazed policeman hurried down parallel alley, three blocks to another street and ran 50 yards to the Vukelja home.

Inside he found Mr. and Mrs. Vukelja, their sons, Milan and Walter and the girl he had been accused of mistreating, Antoinette, 10.

In a flash Sullivan began to shoot. The father stumbled mortally wounded into the basement. Milan lurched after him, dying. Mrs. Vukelja ran upstairs. Walter and Antoinette hid.

Pursues Victim

But, Sullivan, not to be denied his pretty, dashed up the stairs, and killed the woman. Then, with the strength of a madman, he picked up her body and flung it through a window into the dimly-lit street outside.

Then Sullivan retraced his steps to the home of his son and there Constable Gallagher was waiting.

Together, they began walking to the jail. As they reached the home of Mrs. Bacon, Sullivan knocked on the door. Inside, he inquired of Mrs. Bacon:

"Are all these things true about me?"

As she opened her mouth to answer, he shot her dead.

Then he walked back quietly to Gallagher and the two went to the Duquesne jail. When they entered, Park and a squad of detectives were already waiting.

Seventeen Bullets Fired

Seventeen bullets had been blasted out of Sullivan's gun. He had reloaded the weapon several times. In his bloody tour, he had covered steep distances that would have taxed a youthful athlete.

Once in jail, he became calm and collected, as calm as he had been on his daily tours of a beat he had patrolled for 31 years.

About five feet eight inches tall, he has calm hazel eyes. He wears a chestnut toupe. When jailed he wore his street clothing.

"Well, they framed me and I knew it" he told his jailers. "I had my own idea what I should do....oh, yes, I realized I was shooting. In fact, I reloaded my gun several times? Where?

And Sullivan remembered the places so distinctly that county detectives encountered no difficulty in finding the empty shells.

"I don't want to talk," said the elderly policeman. "But, will somebody get me a box of snuff?"

After he got the snuff, he explained:

"I know I'm going to get the electric chair but I'm not sorry. What's the matter with you; you look at me as if I was insane!"

Then he began to talk of his housekeeper, Helen Benda, who wnt to work for him when she was 15. He asserted:

"I hired her to keep my place right She didn't do that. When I left my home, night or day, I could come back suddenly and find the front and back doors open. I figured that was to let her boy friends escape by the back door if I came in the front and vice versa."

As he talked with police, Sullivan repeated again and again he was "satisfied" because he had obtained his "revenge."

Another thing spoiled by machinery: Girls in the sixth grade don't flatter Junior by asking him to sharpen their pencils.

But if Reds who counsel violence shouldnit be suppressed because they are few, why bother to kill a few snakes?

SHOOTING OCCURS IN FREIGHT OFFICE ON S. MILL STREET

Horner and Cruiser Operator Robert Hanna took Ross to the New Castle hospital while Patrolman Peter Hillers, William Tyrell and Thomas Jones, with Albert Augustine, who knew George, started north on South Mill street in search of the would-be slayer. They saw George walking near the Cudahy Packing company, on the street.

Officers Hillers, Jones and Tyrell jumped from the car and surrounded George. Hillers seized him and when searched, George was found to have a revolver in his right rear pocket. It contained three discharged shells and two loaded shells, according to the officers. George was taken to the city jail.

Enroute to the hospital with the victim, Haven said that Ross told him George suffered from imagination, and other officers said that Ross told them that if anything happened to him, he did not want anything done to George because George ought to be in an asylum. According to a B. & O. officer, Art Lowers, George was off duty last summer owing to illness.

Question George.

While Chief of Police Ralph Criswell quizzed George in the former's private office in an effort to ascertain the cause of the shooting, Chief of Detectives Ray Showalter and Detective John Young went to the hospital in an effort to obtain additional facts, if any, but owing to Ross' critical condition, could not converse with him.

According to information secured from George at the police station this morning by police, he was working at 4:30 p. m. yesterday on the freight station platform and claims he heard a voice saying: "The government is going to put you in jail."

George believed the words were meant for him and that the statement was made by Ross, police relate.

George then went home, opened a trunk and took from it a revolver that he had kept there for 20 years, according to police.

Shooting Occurs.

This morning at 6:45 o'clock George went to the freight station, fired the furnace and cleaned the offices and expected to go home when Ross arrived.

Ross did not appear until about 8:15 a. m., when George went into the office to get his gloves.

Ross was in a corner of the office hanging up his coat . His back was to George.

Ross turned around and started for his desk when George is alleged to have declared: "You are the man who is hurting me."

Ross kept walking toward his desk with his back to George when George, it is alleged, when 15 feet away, shot Ross three times.

Ross attempted to leave but fell on the floor.

A call was sent to police and Ross was hurried to the hospital and George was captured on South Mill street.

Reports near noon today said Ross was living but refused to sign a statement against George, telling officers that "George is crazy".

Chief of Police Criswell had George incarcerated in a cell and said that he would lodge an information against George in which George will be charged with felonious assault with intent to kill, after which the prisoner will be taken to the county jail.

Ross is married. George was married twice, but both wives are dead. Ross has two children, and his assailant six, according to authorities.

Shortly after the shooting, Mr. George was brought to the New Castle hospital by police for identification purposes. Mr. Ross recognized his assailant.

Taken before Alderman James C. Brice later today, George pleaded "guilty" to a charge of "assault and battery with intent to kill" which Chief of Police Ralph A. Criswell placed against him.

Alderman Brice bound him over to court. He was removed to the county jail when the hearing ended.

ly have mistaken the trim Erie, only three years old, for the rusty and decrepit ships still in the service of the loyalists.

Observers believe that—without taking any action that might be construed as recognition of the insurgents—Washington would request an explanation of the shooting.

The Espana is one of Spain's two biggest battleships. Built in 1913, it displaces 15,452 tons and is 435 feet long. She carries eight 12-inch guns and 20 four-inchers, as well as batteries of smaller calibres.

No U. S. Action

Washington, Dec. 18—Government officials were deeply concerned today but planned action on the report of the commander of the U. S. S. Cruiser Erie describing the Spanish Man-of-War Espana firing a shell which struck the water 500 yards from his craft in the port of Musel, Spain.

The department said the commander's report gave no indication that his vessel was damaged or that the warship intended his cruiser as a target.

The South Mill street crossing will be protected by gates operated by watchmen prior to the movement of engines or cars over the crossing. Previously, watchmen had operated the gates 24 hours a day.

Pope Pius Will Make Speech On Christmas Eve

Important Speech Will Be Made One Week From Tonight

By FRANK GERVASI
(Copyright, 1936, By International News Service)

VATICAN CITY, Dec. 18—A week from tonight, on Christmas eve, the world perhaps will realize fully for the first time that the once vigorous Pope Pius now is an invalid, unable to walk and compelled to spend most of his time in bed.

International News Service revealed exclusively last week that the pontiff no longer can walk, and that his few short excursions from his sick-bed must be made in a wheelchair. Only those of his official and private families closest to him have seen him since he has been thus stricken.

But on Christmas eve the pontiff's condition will be brought home to the outside world. Today the pope issued formal invitations to a solemn Christmas eve audience at which the cardinanl will pay their holiday respects and at which the pope himself is expected to make an important speech.

ver, Colo. It will be something over three miles long from the Edenburg road to the point where it connects with the Ben Franklin section in Ohio.

Since the completion of the new Edenburg road, there has been a large amount of travel over it, but motorists must pass over the unimproved section which is somewhat of an annoyance. Building of the new section will mean that the road will become one of the heavy traffic carriers of this section. The new section will eliminate a number of curves which the present road makes between the Miller farm and Hillsville. The section to be built will be practically straight from the Miller farm to the Ohio line.

The county commissioners will inform the state highway department that they are in hearty accord with the project.

HONEYMOON SHOWER FOR MISS CARLBERG

Miss Levinah Stewart was a charming hostess Thrsday evening, when she entertained at a honeymoon shower for Miss Florence Carlberg, of East street, whose engagement to Rees Flannery, of Pearson street, was announced at Thanksgiving time.

The affair was held in the home of Mrs. H. D. Horner on East street, where the hostess resides, and interested ten girl friends. For their pleasure, games were played, the pretty favors falling to Miss Elodwen Davis and Miss Margaret Jamison.

Just before luncheon, the honoree was given a letter from Santa Claus instructing her to lead the group to an upstairs room. Here she found an array of gaily wrapped packages which upon opening revealed beautiful gifts.

Returning downstairs, the girls found three small tables aglow with candlelight and dainty appointments. Centerpieces were large candles in Christmas holders, and at the individual places, were smaller candles, all of which furnished most attractive illumination.

Christmas colors predominated in the delicious menu and in the serving, Miss Stewart was assisted by Mrs. Horner. Miss Margaret Jamison, of East Brook, was an out of town guest, and the guests had additional pleasure in the presence of little Eleanor Louise Birt, two and a half year old niece of the hostess.

NURSES ALUMNAE ENTERTAINS AT ELKS

Launching an event that was voted to make it an annual affair, was the dinner-reunion held Thursday evening in the Elks club rooms by the New Castle Hospital Nurses Alumnae with Mrs. Sylvia Greer, Clara Groucutt, Esther Reynolds and Blanche Guinagh, hostesses in charge.

Graduate nurses from the class of 1922 leading up to the present class, enjoyed getting together and renewing friendships. The affair was such a complete success that plans were suggested for a simialr occasion in 1937.

Nearly thirty were in attendance and at 7:30 o'clock the assemblage was called to the dining room where they found their places, designated by unique Yuletide cards. A miniature Christmas tree and other ornaments adorned the banquet table where a full course menu was served.

The remaining hours were spent leisurely in playing bridge with smart favors going to Irene Jinks, Esther Reynolds, Louise Faupel and Marie Grotefend.

Dainty holly shoulder corsages given each of the attending guests, were worn throughout the evening and taken home as mementos.

FIELD CLUB SCENE OF EVENING BRIDGE

New Castle Field club members enjoyed one of their last evening bridge parties of 1936, in their club rooms Thursday evening, with Mr. and Mrs. A. H. Davis, Jr., presiding as hosts. The final social function of this nature will take place on December 30, with Mr. and Mrs. E. A. Fenton filling the role of hosts.

Those winning prizes for honors last evening included Mrs. L. W. Strayer, E. A. Fenton and Mr. and Mrs. C. B. Fiester. Lunch was served at the close of the bridge contest.

BUSINESS WOMEN WILL HAVE PARTY

A Christmas party is planned for Monday evening by the B. P. W. club members. They will meet for dinner as usual at 5:45 in the Y. W. C. A. and the party, with music committee members in charge, will follow.

ART CLUB MEETING AT FEUCHTWANGER'S

Mrs. Marcus Feuchtwanger of Laurel boulevard was hostess to the Art club Thursday afternoon at their annual Christmas tea. The program for the day was in charge of Mrs. A. H. Shumaker, with Vincent Van Gogh, the noted Dutch painter, the subject of study.

The biography of the colorful and dramatic life of this eccentric and temperamental artist as portrayed in Irving Stone's book, "The Lust for Life" was reviewed by Mrs. Harry Gormley in a manner most interesting to her listeners.

This story of the life of the painter, taken largely from a collection of over 700 letters which he had written to his brother, and written in fiction form, covers in detail the various phases of his eventful career, which ended in his tragic death at a comparatively early age.

His paintings, now world renowned, and the subject of many recent exhibitions, received public appreciation only after his death.

A representative group of these paintings were secured by Mrs. Oscar Sheaffer from a New York art dealer and displayed by her at the close of the review of his life.

Tea was served from an attractive table, wtih Mrs. Irvin Balph, president of Art club, pouring. The tea committee included Mrs. Harold McCulloch, Mrs. Fred Alexander, Mrs. C. Fred Haltnorth, Mrs. W. H. Hodgkinson, Mrs. W. J. Isaac, Mrs. Charles Greer and Mrs. E. J. Connery.

The next meeting will be on January 21, at the home of Mrs. Thomas I. Elliott, 218 East Winter avenue.

SANTA CLAUS VISITS SECTION A. MEMBERS

Sleighbells were heard jingling Thursday evening in the home of Mrs. Mary Caldwell on Maryland avenue, when Santa Claus arrived, bearing gifts for assembled members of Section A, of the Third church, who were enjoying themselves at a Christmas party.

Each of the women received a nice present, and the merriment continued with games and contests. Luncheon was served with the aid of Mrs. Arthur Minick and Mrs. W. W. McMillin, pretty appointments being carried throughout in greens and reds. Bright decorations about the home lent a cheery atmosphere to the occasion.

Mrs. John Alexander was in charge last night, taking the place of the leader, Mrs. Fannie Bevan, who was unable to attend. Devotionals were led by Mrs. Harry Thomas. There were about 25 in attendance.

New Year's eve, the section will meet in the home of Mrs. Ralph Phillips on Winslow avenue.

Friendship Club

Mrs. Louis DeCaprio of Fairmont avenue received Friendship club members in her home Wednesday evening for their annual Yuletide party. Gifts were exchanged as the main feature, and the house was beautifully decorated in keeping with the season.

Special guests who shared, included Louise Dillard, Charlotte Leonard and Mrs. Nick Frasso.

After the serving of a tasty repast, the club planned for their next regular event to be held Wednesday, December 30, with Mrs. Michael Cassella, hostess at the Castleton.

DOROTHY ALEXANDER WEDS HENRY WYMANN

Ushering in the Yuletide nuptial season, was the wedding ceremony which took place Thursday afternoon, December 17, in the parsonage of the Second United Presbyterian church of Butler, Pa., when Miss Dorothy Alexander, daughter of F. O. Alexander, 122 North Crawford avenue, became the bride of Henry Wyman, son of Mr. and Mrs. G. H. Wyman, 702 Chestnut street.

The single ring service was used with the Rev. S. C. Gamble, pastor, and a former pastor of the local Second U. P. church, officiating.

The vows were pledged in the presence of a gathering of fifty guests or more of the young couple, and immediately following a short congratulatory period, the bridal party and New Castle guests returned here. A reception was held in the Wyman home with a buffet lunch being served, carrying out a theme of pink and green. A tiered wedding cake surmounted by a miniature bride and groom, adorned the bridal table.

For her wedding, the bride was attired in a smart sand brown tweed suit with accessories to match. A shoulder bouquet of yellow tea roses completed her ensemble. Miss Anna May Alexander, a sister of the bride, was her only attendant. She chose a forest green, tailored street length dress, with accompaniments in a harmonizing shade of brown, and wore a shoulder corsage of pink tea roses.

Harry Wyman served his twin brother as best man.

Later in the evening, Mr. Wyman and his bride departed on a short motor trip and after the first of the year will take up permanent residence at Warren, Pa. She is a graduate of the New Castle high school with the class of '36, and he is a member of the class of '30 of the local high school. At present the groom is affiliated with the G. J. Howe Company of Grove City.

A number of showers and parties have been given in honor of the bride since the news of the engagewas made known and they have received a collection of magnificient gifts to use in their future home, testifying to the esteem which they are held.

Those attending from this city included F. O. Alexander, Mr. and Mrs. G. H. Wyman, Dorothy and Betty Wyman, Isabel Bryan, George Gailey, Mrs. T. I. Dodds, Mrs. Elizabeth Alexander, Betty Alexander, Carl Alexander, Mrs. LeRoy Messner, Mrs. C. J. Dodds and Mrs. Stanley Price.

The occasion was a birthday courtesy for Miss Faller and before the party was concluded, she was the recipient of a surprise shower of beautiful gifts.

Guests numbering 15 spent a happily informal evening, after enjoying a delectable dinner, and in the various contests, inexpensive prizes were given to each one to create further merriment. A small Christmas tree flanked by tall red tapers, formed the attractive centerpiece and poinsettas completed the arrangement. Cards were in play with prizes falling to Mrs. W. H. Jones and Mrs. E. H. Fehl, the former who also received the galloping award.

Miss Lucille Murphy, of Butler, Pa., was a special guest.

On Wednesday, December 30, the club will meet in regular session with Mrs. J. W. Campbell, Chestnut street.

TAX EVASION

THE list of unpaid per capita school taxes which has been presented to the school board for exoneration presents a rather unfavorable commentary upon many citizens of the city.

Approximately 12,000 people have either refused to pay or cannot pay the five dollar levy.

With the refusals to pay amounting to almost a tax scandal it does seem that there should be some teeth in the law which would compel people who can pay, to do their duty.

The five dollar levy is made in order to ease the burden on real estate and to require non-property owners to pay a small share of the expense of educating the children. What has happened is that the non-property owner has refused and the General Assembly, it is asserted, removed the penalty clause in the act.

Many of those on the uncollected list are unable to pay and no one would suggest working a hardship upon such people. The people who should be obliged to pay are those who can do so. School taxes will probably be raised not less than two mills for the coming year. One mill of this increase is represented in the uncollected per capita taxes, nearly $59,000.

When a lodge or club member does not pay his dues he is posted where the other members can see. It might not be a bad idea if some such system was used in this list of uncollected per capita taxes. Property owners who will have to pay their own load and the tax evaders' load might be interested in seeing just whose load they are carrying.

DEBUNKING THE "TEN BEST"

The decision of Mrs. Carrie Chapman Catt that no longer will she make an annual public selection of the Nation's ten outstanding women for the year might well be followed by the numerous other individuals and organizations which choose the ten best books, finest speeches, most gorgeously dressed film stars, notable achievements and even most valuable athletes.

Somehow, these selections remain merely opinions and arbitrary, a bit self-exalting and obvious as a rule, and usually conducive to fruitless and pointless controversy.

Mrs. Catt deplores that her annual listing has ceased to be "a personal thing;" that she is beset from all sides to nominate this or that woman to her individual hall of fame. To have a lasting value, selection of leading persons or achievements should be more authoritative than they generally are. The practice has been run into the ground, and it is time debunking were started.

THE AFTERMATH OF ABDICATION

In Canada, as in the other nations of the British Commonwealth, the ultimate effects of the blow sustained by the monarchy and the house of Windsor have been the subject of anxious examination.

As the general opinion is recorded in the Dominion press, it seems to be that the injury inflicted will be repaired and that the institutions will remain potent in their place in the political establishment.

The Toronto Telegram holds it to be "an occasion for devout thankfulness that the crisis has been disposed of at this time, and that it was not delayed until circumstances might have given such a crisis the nature of a catastrophe." The Toronto Globe and Mail holds that "what speaks loudly among Britishers in favor of George is the fact that he had the courage to ascend the Throne under the circumstances and in the face of the difficulties and uncertainties that envelop the empire. This above all others is the quality of Kingship. It is in the light of these things that the blow of abdication has been greatly softened." The Toronto Star says that "the abdication of one royal brother and the accession of another to the Throne is naturally the subject of conversation wherever two British people meet anywhere in the world, yet the news of the event is probably more interesting than it will be essentially important in its effects"

The opinion of the Ottawa Journal is even more emphatic; it calls the outcome of the struggle "a devastating answer to the dictatorships," and adds: "The British Throne remains. It will remain—will stand and grow stronger than before. It will grow stronger because of this tremendous and unforgettable lesson in what it is and what it should be: the symbol of the Empire's unity—and its servant. Something else has been gained. That something is the demonstration of the authority of the Cabinet and Parliament. Those who held that lightly, who thought that the King could be above the Cabinet and House of Commons, that the British people would ever stand for a dictatorship, no matter whence its source, have had their answer. That answer is being pondered today in Berlin, in Moscow, in Rome.

The thought of strengthened unity of British lands is also put forward by the Montreal Star which, declaring that the Empire has "withstood the shock of an unprecedented incident," adds that its sturdiness "has proved to a watchful world that its solidarity and its allegiance to the Throne as a symbol of Empire are, if anything, stronger than ever." Thus it is on a confident note that the new monarch is welcomed.

The World AND THE Mud Puddles

HOW IT HURTS

Customers of the Georgia Power Company are being charged a million dollars a year for electric service because of the TVA! And that company brings forward facts and figures to prove it.

All over the country utility companies have been refinancing securities at lower rates of interest, thus reducing operating budgets. A big New York Company, for example, recently found a ready market for 3 1-4 per cent bonds. A Pacific Coast utility had no trouble in disposing of a 3 3-5 per cent issue to refund a higher-rate issue. So it goes, with a long list of utilities successfully marketing bonds bearing interest at 4 per cent and less.

Yet the TVA area utilities must still pay five to six per cent for their money. Why is this? The answer is simple: Investors are afraid of what TVA might do—they are afraid that private utilities may have their property virtually confiscated, and their earnings imperiled by tax-free, tax-subsidized government competition. So these investors demand a higher interest rate.

The Georgia Power Company says that if it could refinance its bonds at four per cent, it would save over $1,180,000 a year. This money could be used to reduce rates—which would stimulate use of power, lead to new construction and more jobs and so on.

This is just one example of what unmeetable and unfair government competition does. And the same thing will happen elsewhere if the proponents of similar authorities for other parts of the country are successful.

Leave such matters to the voters and they will care for it properly.

The Outstanding Baby.
More About Edward.
Important Health News.
2,000 Pints Of Cream.
By ARTHUR BRISBANE

MRS. CARRIE CHAPMAN CATT, abandoning her practice of choosing the "ten outstanding women of the year," is wise, the thing can't be done.

The outstanding woman of each year is the woman who has produced the year's best baby, and she has to wait about fifty years to find which baby was best, sometimes longer.

THIS is no belittling of woman's work. The outstanding artist of the year is the painter of the greatest picture in that year. Man puts his brains and his power into his work, woman puts hers into her baby. Some day that will be realized and the Lincoln statue will show Nancy Hanks in bronze, with little Abraham sitting on her lap, waiting for his dinner.

BEN TILLETT, labor member of Parliament, sorry King Edward left, says he was "hounded" out, and wishes the King could have stayed on to say what he thought about hard conditions of slum dwellers and coal miners.

English Kings say little, that is their role; but Edward had already talked a little too much about vile slums and workmen without work or hope.

That made the government glad to be rid of him.

EDWARD, Duke of Windsor, annoyed by the Archbishop of Canterbury's attack, is said to consider leaving the Church of England in protest.

The King might have been wiser had he stayed on his throne, done what he chose, about marriage and other things and incidentally, removed the Archbishop from his highest place in the Church of England. A man can do little, when he no longer holds the "gun."

ENGLISHMEN that had manufactured plates, cups, etc., with portraits of the former King Edward, to be sold at his coronation, expected a total loss. Now all are sold and they have orders for more; the plates have become curiosities. Buyers of China for American department stores might order some as curiosities.

All Of Us

SAFELY THROUGH THE FOG

The fog lay thick and deep all about us, so thick that a man standing at the bow of the boat could not see 50 feet in front of him. . . . The fog horns moaned and blatted, little tugs beeped their way through the murk, beneath us the great currents of the tide swirled and swept across our path. . . . We sat, comfortable and even bored, a crowd of human beings on the two decks of the great ferry.

Above us, in a little room, a man who knew his business took us across the water, through the fog, to our destination. Slowly, surely, that man whose name I do not know, whom I would not recognize for what he is if I met him on the street, guided our great mass from shore to shore.

I know just a little of what he had to do. . . . Many years ago, when I was younger, I drove an ambulance in France. And many a night, without lights, on unfamiliar roads, with moaning, or silently suffering men in my car, I made my way through great darkness. Clutching the wheel, straining my sleepy eyes to hold to the road and catch the slight thickening of the gloom that told me something else was on the road before me.

But it's different on this fluid road that's traveled by the captain of this ferry, sliding through the fog. The pressuer is more intense, the responsibility greater. . . . And yet this man brought us through the gray mass, across the shifting currents, precisely, surely, into the slip on the other side . . . as though it were nothing at all, as easy as the laughter of a child.

I thank him for that, for doing his job so well. . . . And I thank him for this, as well. For reminding me that with such steadiness, such knowledge of his job, all men and women should be able to bring their little barks through the fogs of life, through the great currents of time and circumstances and come into the narrow and secure slip that waits at the end of the journey

The skeleton of a woman whose identity is a mystery, was found in the woods in New Jersey. She had gaily painted toe and finger nails. The beauty parlor artist who fixed her up should be able to identify her handiwork and footwork.

There has always been one great thing that has made men work and that is competition. Some day we are going to get back to that condition and about everybody will either work or sumpin'. Read the early history of the United States and you will find that work was the thing that won and it will yet. So far work has not hurt anyone as much as not working.

REPRINTED BY REQUEST

Some time ago, we don't know how long, we printed the following article. Several people have asked to have it reprinted. Among others who sent a copy in was Mrs. Frank C. Douds of 502 North Croton avenue.

LISTEN SON
(By an Unknown Author)

I am saying this to you as you lie asleep, one little paw crumpled under your cheek and the blond curls stickily wet on your damp forehead. I have stolen into your room alone. Just a few minutes ago as I sat reading my paper in the library, a hot stifling wave of remorse swept over me. I could not resist it. Guiltily I came to your bedside.

These are the things I was thinking, my son: I had been cross to you. I scolded you as you were dressing for school because you gave your face merely a dab with a towel. I took you to task for not cleaning your shoes. I called out angrily when I found you had thrown some of your things on the floor.

At breakfast I found fault, too. You spilled things. You gulped down your food. You put your elbows on the table. You spread butter too thick on your bread. And as you started off to play I made for my train you turned and waved a little hand and called, "Goodbye, daddy!" and I frowned and said in reply, "Hold your shoulders back!"

Then it began all over again in the late afternoon. As I came up the hill road I spied you down on your knees playing marbles. There were holes in your stockings. I humiliated you before your boy friends by making you march ahead of me back to the house. Stockings were expensive—and if you had to buy them you would be more careful. Imagine that, son, from a father! It was such stupid, silly logic. Do you remember later when I was reading in the library, how you came in softly, timidly, with a sort of hurt, hunted look in your eyes? When I glanced up over my paper, impatient at the interruption, you hesitated at the door. "What is it you want?" I snapped.

You said nothing, but ran across in one tempestous plunge and threw your arms around my neck and kissed me again and again, and your small arms tightened with an affection that God has sent blooming in your heart and which even neglect could not wither. And then you were gone, pattering up the stairs.

Well, son, it was shortly afterwards that my paper slipped from my hands and a terrible sickening fear came over me. Suddenly I saw myself as I really was in all my horrible selfishness, and I felt sick at heart.

What has habit been doing to me? The habit of complaining, of finding fault, of reprimanding—all of these were my rewards to you for being a boy. It was not that I did not love you; it was that I expected so much of youth. It was measuring you by the yardstick of my own years.

And there was so much that was good and fine and true in your character. You did not deserve my treatment of you, son. The little heart of you was as big as the dawn itself over the wide hills. All this was shown by your spontaneous impulse to rush in and kiss me goodnight. Nothing else maters tonight, son. I have come to your bedside in the darkness and I have knelt there, choking with emotion and so ashamed!

It is a feeble atonement. I know you would not understand these things if I told them to you during your wakening hours, yet I must say what I am saying. I must burn sacrificial fires, alone, here in your bedroom and make tree confession. And I have prayed God to strengthen me in my new resolve. Tomorrow I will be a real daddy. I will chum with you and suffer when you suffer and laugh when you laugh. I will bite my tongue when impatient words come. I will keep saying as if it were a ritual: "He is nothing but a boy—a little boy!"

I am afraid I have visualized you as a man. Yet as I see you now son, crumpled and weary in your cot, I see that you are still a baby. Yesterday you were in your mother's arms, your head on her shoulder I have asked too much, too much.

Dear boy! Dear little son! A penitent kneels at your infant shrine, here in the moonlight. I kiss the little fingers and the damp forehead.

Now we are told that the ex-king of England is broke. A lot of birds in this country could say to him, "Shake, Eddie." That also goes for millions in Europe.

A Pittsburgh city official complained that the automobile he used was too small for his stature. He must have a pull as he is getting a bigger and higher priced bus.

Talk has always been cheap, but it will be cheaper when the telephone rates are reduced, which will happen soon after the first of the year.

We have often wondered how some people can cut turkey in such small pieces. This, of course, has been at dinners at so much per plate served to big crowds.

Hi Hum says the girls of today spend their time between the beauty parlors and the drug stores. The old crab will have to admit they look nicer than ever at that.

We have had some queer offers. One grouch says he will give us a hundred dollars for a Christmas gift if we quit writing this column. We won't do it as we get far more than that for writing it. Of course we have our price for quitting writing it, but it's high.

The ex-king of England has bought his sweetie a new fur coat. That is not good taste in this country before marriage. Here the women take a chance of getting one after they are married—and often don't.

The kick some people get out of bridge, it is said, is under the table. We only hear this as we don't play cards.

That bishop of England who razzed the ex-king is now getting a razzing himself. It's easy for a preacher to be in wrong and it only takes a few words some time to make him look for another charge.

After the wedding it is all some fathers can do to keep from rushing up to the bridegroom and thanking him.

Parents bring up a boy and the judge sends them up.

In some places automobile drivers are being fined about $8 because they do not know their right from their left. Some drivers don't even know straight ahead.

UNCLE ABNER SAYS:

By FRANCINE MARKEL

DEAR Miss Markel—Could you give me some suggestions for a Christmas party? Do you know of any "Christmasy" menus?.
HOSTESS.

Answer—A party at Christmas may be the merriest of affairs. That holiday of holidays lends such great opportunities for colorful decoration.

Grace your walls with huge wreaths and holly sprays tied with red ribbon. Have your lighting from candles and lamps diffusing a rosy glow. On a table place one of the new glass or silvered Christmas trees and suspend from it a small gift or favor for each guest. You may prefer to hang in the doorway between your living and dining room a large stocking made of papier mache which may be broken during the evening to disperse these gifts which the guests will make a mad dash to catch as they fall.

In your Yuletide menu you may include: Turkey sandwiches with candle salad, or turkey salad with cream cheese and jelly sandwiches, coffee or hot chocolate, fruit cake or cup cakes, some having white and others red icing.

A white tablecloth with a centerpiece of poinsettias flanked by green "good luck" bayberry candles will complete your Christmas atmosphere.

This is the recipe for candle salad: A ring of pineapple as the candle base, a half banana placed upright in the center of the pineapple, a clove or an apple stem on top of the banana to represent the wick.

Business Prophets Busy.
Some Experts Are Hedging.
Outlook Is Encouraging However.

By LESLIE EICHEL
Central Press Columnist

YEAR-END PROPHECIES for 1937 are being made by our major business prophets.

Colonel Leonard P. Ayres hedges somewhat, for—he says—the American constitution has been "amended". Not in fact, but in practice.

He explains: "The new amendment charges the national government with responsibility for the economic conditions under which our citizens live and work. . . ." Prophecies, therefore, are somewhat dangerous—about as hazardous as they were in 1929.

After going into detail as to what we may expect in industry, costs and interest next year—all of which loom favorably—Colonel Ayres remarks, with a trace of gloom:

"Probably it would be of little value to attempt to forecast in greater detail the business developments that seem likely to take shape next year. More important questions are those relating to the general conditions under which business will be done next year and in future years under a system of managed economics. A general answer to those questions may be derived from the apparent fact that the American people truly believe that their government has discovered a method for overcoming depressions, and for creating prosperity."

Of course, no sound business man or economist believes that. But managed currency and federal regulation of speculation and business have come to stay. They will be strengthened year after year.

MANIPULATION TOO

Furthermore, such manipulation of investors' funds, to the detriment of the investor, as has been disclosed by testimony of the senate committee investigating the Van Sweringen railroad deals, will be made a criminal act.

Colonel Ayres, a vice president of the Cleveland Trust company, acted as intermediary for the Van Sweringens and their angels, George Ball, of Muncie, Ind., and George S. Tomlinson, of Cleveland, and the banks in getting back into their hands rail securities, put up as collateral, worth somewhat over $13,000,000 now, for $262,000, or so, in cash. Those securities controlled an empire worth three billion dollars. There was so much manipulating by the Van Sweringens and the banks that no one really can say who owned what—but it is readily discernable who "milked" what, and what the investors have left.

Obviously, government regulation in this instance will be very bad, indeed—for the "milkers".

IN THE MEANTIME—

Colonel Ayres finds the outlook encouraging for 1937, in spite of all.

Volume of construction will increase, but no real building boom—yet. Railroad freight traffic will be heavier, railroads will buy more new equipment, the automotive industries will continue to hold their lead with further advancements, wholesale and retail commodity prices and the cost of living will increase—but the increases will not be large.

We are not having inflation—yet. "Inflations do not develop during depressions even if the money supply is over-large, for then the money circulates slowly and the excess productive capacity of industry supplies competing offers of goods to meet each demand. We may feel sure that inflation will not develop here in 1937 because despite all the recovery we have made we are still in the depression."

Interest rates will remain low—so that the U. S. treasury department will have an easy time floating new issues. These low interest rates will force bond prices still higher. Stock prices also "will almost surely be high, and probably they will advance further than they have so far. Stock prices may be expected to continue their advancing trend as long as the ownership of stocks is more attractive than the ownership of money."

ANOTHER PROPHET

The Roger Babson organization, however, remarks: "Stealthily, inflation is creeping closer and closer. Your pocketbook will soon begin to fell the strain. Probabilities are about 6 to 10 that the United States will be unable to avoid some drastic form of inflation. This means that your money may be debased to 20 cents on the dollar!

"Commodity and stock prices will skyrocket!"

Which prophet will you take when it comes to profits?

Just Folks

THOUGHTS ON CHRISTMAS

Some say it's just for children, and the lighted Christmas tree
With the glittering toys upon it isn't meant for men like me.
Well, I don't know how to argue with the cynics grown so wise,
And the sad and solemn sages joy can never more surprise.
But disdaining facts and figures,
though my hair is turning gray,
I still like the glad excitement and the thrills of Christmas Day.

Let the old curmudgeons scorn it!
Let 'em fling their jibes and jeers!
I'm as happy as the youngsters
when the Christmas time appears.
Though I do not really need them,
I am sure that hurt I'd be
If I woke on Christmas morning and no presents came for me.
With those bits of sweet remembrance love has labored to supply,
There is no drum-pounding youngster who can gladder be than I.

When I hear the scoffers saying that it's just for children small,
I still hold to my opinion Christmas
Day is for us all;
That the fathers and the mothers,
and the aunts and uncles, too,
Come as close to being happy as the youngsters ever do.
If it's just a time for children, this is all I've got to say;
I don't want to be a grown-up when it comes to Christmas Day.

Today's Yesterdays.—150 Years Ago Today—Karl Maria Friedrich Ernest von Weber (va-ber) was born in Eutin, Oldenburg. His father, an ex-army officer, had foretold before the child was born that it would be a boy and become a great musician like Wolfgang Mozart, the husband of the elder Weber's niece. The forecast was correct though in his youth Karl was more interested in lithography, which he helped its inventor, Aloys Senefelder, develop. Nevertheless he composed an opera before he was 14, conducted the greatest German orchestras before he was 18, and was both famous and infamous before he was 25, for he was banished from his home town for embezzlement. But his Der Freischutz, first great German romantic opera, Oberon, Buryanthe made home towners glad to forget Weber's jail career.

Dec. 18, 1787.—As New Jersey ratified the federal constitution and thereby became the third state, for the first time it became legal in the U. S. for women to vote. The New Jersey state constitution enfranchised women; it was the first colony or state to do so.

It was also the first political unit in the world to revoke women's suffrage; it repealed this clause of the constitution in 1806, the electorate having decided equal rights were a failure!

Dec. 18, 1790.—Leopold of Saxe-Coburg-Saalfeld was born in Coburg, a German. He became Russian and English in allegiance before he became the founder of the Belgian monarchy, and Greece tried to claim him! He was unique in other respects, too. He took unto himself a Jewess as consort.

SEVEN LEARNED SCIENTISTS will spend nine months studying big apes in the jungles of Siam, Borneo and Sumatra. These scientists, from Harvard, Johns Hopkins and Bard College, will watch the apes as they were never watched before, and tell us what discoveries they make about our alleged "cousins."

Some wise chimpanzee might say to them:

"Now please go back, study some of your gangsters and leaders of wars and tell us what you discovered there."

CHRISTMAS trees appear again in Russia, where they thought religion had been buried forever. They call them New Year's trees. Religion has a habit of not remaining buried. You cannot change human beings by law, not even with the help of Karl Marx—they grow in a certain way, as do Christmas trees and other products of nature. You change them temporarily, but they return to the original form.

IN MEXICO, workers for an American firm in the State of Sinaloa, not satisfied with their employers, emphasized that fact by shutting off light, water and other public services, in the town of Los Mochis, in which they and other workmen live.

The strikers hope to "paralyze all activity in one half of the state."

This might be called "biting off your nose to spite your face;" there should be a better plan.

THE GOVERNMENT has spent $422,000 well, to manufacture 10,000 "talking-book machines" for blind people. Many of the blind cannot read books printed in raised letters to be read by touch. These book machines actually read the books out loud, and 75,000 blind persons will listen.

THE SUGGESTION of an all-America court to decide quarrels between different republics on these two continents is postponed until 1938. The United States, if wise, will never act as judge or appoint judges in quarrels between other American republics. No matter how they might decide, this country would be accused of self interest or injustice, making one enemy in every case.

You've heard of how leprous Gauguin was glad to exchange canvases now worth $15,000 for a glass of beer. But the art market is like the stock market, too. Paintings by Alma-Tadema which sold for $1,000 forty years ago would not fetch $25 today.

Continental travel was slower when Queen Victoria came to the throne than when Julius Caesar refused one, for until these days, no nation has ever built roads the equal of those of the Romans, who had a highway from Scotland to Jerusalem over which it was possible to cover 100 miles, traveling post, a day.

pine area between Salt Lake and Provo. Today this picture will be repeated.

17 Planes In Search

New aircraft from many sections of the west joined in the search, augmenting the 17 ship squadron now in the field.

With this enlarged airforce of nearly 100 men, systematic coverage of territory for 25 miles on each side of the radio beam between Milford and Salt Lake was planned today, it was announced by Alvin P. Adams, president of the western air express.

"We will attempt to reconstruct the flight of the transport in every detail, taking into account the physical factors pilot S. J. Samson likely faced the night of the tragedy," Adams explained.

It was over Milford that Samson crisply radioed his final message, "Everything OK," the night the ship disappeared.

May Be In Lake

This new procedure gave rise to the theory that possibly the airliner may have crashed in the water of Utah Lake which is directly on the airline course.

It is pointed out that if this should be the case, the liner should be easily discovered as the lake is rather shallow.

A rising barometer and the first favorable weather since the search began will be a tremendous aid to air searchers and ground parties. Heretofore aviators had to face adverse weather conditions which veiled a large portion of the area in which the missing plane may have plunged.

Hampered By Fog

Thursday fog hampered the airmen in covering the higher reaches of the Wasatch.

In addition to the chief pilot, the ship carried co-pilote William L. Bogan, stewardness Gladys Witt, Mr. and Mrs. Carl Christopher of Dwight, Ill.

In spite of the tragedy, the volume of Christmas air travel is running to capacity. All transcontinental planes in and out of Salt Lake Thursday were carrying full loads of passengers.

Hanlon Warns Of License Plate Rush

Motorists who have not yet secured their license plates for 1937 should do so quickly if they expect to get their plates back in time for the new year. According to B. N. Hanlon, manager of the New Castle Motor Club, the offices of the Department of Revenue in Harrisburg will be closed from December 23 to December 28 for the Christmas holiday and the resulting accumulation of applications may cause some delay.

There is no extension time when 1936 plates can be used. They are done at midnight on December 31, and regardless of when the motorist sent in his application, he cannot use his 1936 plates after midnight December 31.

There is always a tremendous rush at the last minute for plates and the wise motorist will get his application in now.

PLEADS FOR HALT IN CHINESE WAR

150,000 already speeding to Sianfu to crush Chang is recalled, they face execution.

Fear Long Civil War

China then, he warned, would be plunged into a long and disruptive civil war that would pave the way for Japan, standing by while China exhausts itself, to step in and grab the whole country.

While more than 30,000 communist Chinese troops, supporters of Marshal Chang in his demand that China fight Japan, rushed towards Sianfu to battle the loyalist forces, General Chiang Ting-Wen presented a personal letter signed by Generalissimo Chiang begging for patience.

Many authorities close to the government, however, feared that, with the two armies rushing headlong at each other, and with minor fighting already going on in Shensi province, it was too late.

The appeal from the premier, it was also pointed out, may have been signed under compulsion, although the bearer, who said he was treated well while in captivity, did not indicate any such pressure.

Soong may go to Sianfu to negotiate a settlement—probably involving Marshal Chang's safety and payment of a large ransom to him.

W. H. Donald, the Australian newspaper man who has been conducting negotiations, has returned to Chang's stronghold.

NEW BEDFORD COUPLE GOLDEN WEDDING EVENT

Next Wednesday, December 23, Mr. and Mrs. J. J. Shields, well known New Bedford couple, will celebrate their fiftieth wedding anniversary.

It was in December 1886 that the very youthful couple was united in marriage by the Rev. A. W. Verner, at the Manse of the Hopewell Presbyterian church at New Bedford. Both were representatives of prominent and pioneer families.

The bride, the former Mary Alice Gundy, was a daughter of the late Henry and Rebecca Campbell Gundy. The groom, Joshua John Shields, was a son of the late Robert and Catherine McCready Shields.

Going to housekeeping in the New Bedford vicinity, the couple's entire lives since, have been spent in that community. They have always been successfully engaged in farming. Both are officers and active members in the local Grange.

They have been life-long members and workers in the Presbyterian church and all its organizations. Both are enjoying the best of health, and are carrying on all their usual activities in the home and community.

Mr. and Mrs. Shields have four children: Arthur L., of Springfield, Mass.; Russell H., of New Castle; Paul R., and Florence McKibben of New Bedford.

There are three grandchildren: Shirley Shields, of New Castle, Donald Shields of New Bedford; and Robert Shields of Springfield, Mass.

The anniversary day will be informally celebrated in their home with a family dinner at noon. Then the honored couple will observe "open house" between the hours of 2 to 4 in the afternoon, and 8 to 10 in the evening. During this time, they hope to welcome their many friends and acquaintances.

Wintering In Florida

Mr. and Mrs. William A. Stone, married Thanksgiving Day in Atlanta, Ga., are spending the winter months in St. Petersburg, Fla.

The marriage of Mr. Stone, 317 Boyles avenue, this city, to Mrs. Maud Huff Hightower, Decatur, Ga., took place in the home of Atlanta relatives of the bride on that holiday. Dr. D. P. McGeachy, pastor of the Decatur Presbyterian church, performed the marriage service.

Mr. and Mrs. Stone enjoyed a honeymoon trip to Havana, Cuba, and then returned to St. Petersburg to pass the winter.

MARY ALICE WHITE HOSTESS TO SOCIETY

Miss Mary Alice White of Clenmore boulevard had twenty-five members of the Women's Home Missionary society of the First M. E. church and special guests, Mrs. J. N. Kerr, Mrs. Paul Pattison and girls from the World Friendship Circle, at her home on Thursday afternoon.

Miss Ida Schnackel conducted the devotions, and, with Miss Alma Wolverton, sang "Star of the East." The business session was in charge of the president, Mrs. Roy C. Miller and the program of the afternoon was under the direction of Mrs. George Morris.

Introduced by Miss Wolverton, Louise Kerr, accompanied by her mother, gave a violin solo and Jane Morris, June Boyd, Marjorie Allen, Maxine Templeton, Leona Weiss, Barbara Yoho and Eleanor Taylor gave readings.

In conclusion the ladies and girls were invited to the dining room, where dainty refreshments were served. Mrs. Miller poured tea. Miss White was assisted in serving by Mrs. C. C. Clark, Mrs. H. L. Ailey, Mrs. B. F. Kariher, Mrs. H. C. Campbell, Miss M. Kate Stockman and Mrs. Paul Pattison.

HADASSAH BOARD MEETING MONDAY

A special meeting of Hadassah executive board is called by the president, Mrs. L. F. Kohn, for next Monday afternoon, December 21, in the home of Mrs. L. Sandler, Moody avenue. The hour is 2 o'clock.

The meeting is being called for two important reasons, first to arrange for a very special occasion to greet and meet with Mrs. J. B. Grossman, of New York City, outstanding member of Hadassah, who will tour Western Pennsylvania region early in January.

Mrs. Grossman is an excellent speaker, one who has had wide experience in all phases of Hadssahs work. She is scheduled to reach New Castle Sunday evening, January 10, and to remain all day Monday for a conference with the executive board and activity chairmen.

The second reason for the board assembly is to make final plans for Hadassah's unique function, the Thrift Luncheon, for the benefit of the school luncheon fund. This event will take place Tuesday afternoon, December 29, at Tifereth Israel synagogue.

ELECTION OFFICERS AT W. C. B. MEETING

W. C. B. class of Wesley M. E. church, held their annual Christmas party, Thursday in the home of Mrs. Effie Graham, South Lee avenue.

After the election of officers, the president conducted a candle light memorial service for members of the class who have passed away during the closing year. At this time a novel roll call was heard. Upon each name being called, members answered with appropriate Christmas verses.

The following program was greatly enjoyed: A solo was rendered by Mrs. Pilshaw, and a duet by Mrs. Mottinger and Mrs. Will Dibbley. Capsule friends of the class then held their annual gift exchange, following which new capsule friends were drawn. Later hours were spent in playing bingo and other games.

The next meeting will be held the second Thursday in January, in the home of Mrs. Joseph Perkins, South Lee avenue.

GROUP HAS PARTY AT McCLAIN HOME

C. H. H. class members of the First Baptist church enjoyed an evening of fun and frolic Thursday when Miss Ruth McClain of Katherine street, entertained members at their annual Christmas party. A variety of games held the interest of the guests and a group of Christmas songs were sung. Conversation and other pastimes also filled in the leisure hours. Following, a dainty repast was served by the hostess with her mother and sister as aides. The table was brilliantly arranged with red and green streamers extending from the chandelier to the guests' places, set off with a Christmas lamp guarded by candles in silver holders at either side. An exchange of gifts followed.

Coming as a complete surprise to the hostess, the group presented her with a lovely birthday gift, her anniversary falling due on Saturday, December 19. The next meeting will take place in January, the date to be announced.

Their artistry was also noted in unusual table decorations, when luncheon was served. Red candles in very unique wooden holders were used as centerpieces about which were Christmas corsages of holly and evergreens for each guest. They made lovely souvenirs to take home. Marriage Brokers Are In Convention

(International News Service)

NEW YORK, Dec. 18—Cupid, Inc (which isn't the name but could be) will hold it's annual director's meeting here tomorrow.

And trade expansion is the chief item on the agenda.

Actually, what's going on is the convention of marriage brokers where all sorts of trade secrets are to be talked over behind closed doors.

"There will be present," solemnly declared Dr. Nathan Wolf, secretary of the National Association, "about 180 marriage brokers from the United States, Canada and Mexico.

"Our goal in 1937 will be to make young people 'marriage conscious.' "

Dr. Wolf has achieved more than local celebrity by virture of being not only a marriage broker but the only registered voter in a Manhattan assembly district.

Two big problems confront the convention this year, he observed.

The first is to keep women from lying about their ages.

The other is to keep the men clients from posing as big shots.

"Had a man the other day who said he was a floor walker," said Dr. Wolf.

"Turned out he was just a floor washer."

TROOP NO. 16

Girl Scouts of Troop 16 met December 15 for their weekly meeting at Mahoning school. The meeting was opened by the flag salute. Later the captain gave the patrol leaders questions to be discussed in the patrol corners.

Scribe, Mary L. Jolley.

Mrs. Hauptmann Is Still Investigating Lindbergh Kidnaping

Promises To Make Statement On Case That Will Astound Whole World

Is Being Aided By New York Detective, Has Visited Hopewell, New Jersey

By KENNETH T. DOWNS
International News Service Staff Correspondent

NEW YORK, Dec. 18.—Mrs. Anna Hauptmann today disclosed she has been in Hopewell, N. J., recently and declared she is about to make an "astounding" revelation in the Lindbergh case.

She said she is on the verge of vindicating the name of her husband, Bruno Richard Hauptmann, who was executed last April 3, for the murder of Charles A. Lindbergh, Jr.

Will Reveal Names.

"The guilty ones we will name soon," she said. "And then the world will know my husband was innocent, like I always said."

With her as she talked, in the office of the Braun international detective agency in lower Manhattan, was her child, Manfried Hauptmann, now a husky little fellow of three.

It was not hard to see why she is working so tirelessly at trying to vindicate the Hauptmann name. For little Manfried is becoming the living image of his father! The resemblance is startling.

During the last eight months his hair has changed from flaxen blonde to the light brown hair his father had. His mouth is the mouth of Bruno Richard Hauptmann. But most of all, the likeness is in the eyes, of the same blue-gray color, that his father had.

Abandons Trip.

So sure is she that she is about to "solve" the case, that she has indefinitely abandoned her visit to Germany, she said. She has even held up plans for disposition of the ashes of her husband. She disclosed that the urn containing the ashes still remains at the Pond crematory in Long Island where Hauptmann was cremated last spring.

Mrs. Hauptmann referred all questions about her investigation to Julius Braun, head of the detective agency she engaged last spring. Braun, a tall, fierce looking individual with piercing black eyes, iron-gray hair and cropped mustache, who speaks several languages, said:

"I am hopeful that before we get much older we are going to astound the world. This is the hardest case I have ever worked on, but we are near a solution. That we will get to the bottom of it is a certainty. The things we are about to reveal will surprise you.

Lack Of Funds.

"Our main trouble is lack of funds. I have not taken a nickel of pay from Mrs. Hauptmann; she hasn't the money for such purposes. So you can see we are working under a handicap. Mrs. Hauptmann has not received any contributions since, ah, since that, ah, situation was ended in Trenton last spring."

Mrs. Hauptmann said she has worked almost day and night on the case since last April. She said she had been in New Jersey several times and in other states with Braun during the last few months. She said she and Braun had visited Governor Harold G. Hoffman of New Jersey on more than one occasion.

"The governor is still working on the case," she said. "He has been very nice to me.

Will Never Marry Again.

"Everybody has been nice. People still stop me and ask how I am and ask how is the baby."

Mrs. Hauptmann said that she never will marry again, nor will ever use any name but Hauptmann. Eventually, she said, she hopes to start up a little shop of some kind here in New York. She isn't sure what business she will choose.

She hasn't much time to think about such matters, she said, until this investigation is finished.

TOWNSEND CLUB NO. 4

Townsend club No. 4 will have a meeting and entertainment this evening at 8 o'clock in the Knights of Malta Hall.

"Not Guilty" Verdict In Bookamer Case

The jury in the case of James Braden Bookamer, of Ellwood City, charged with operating a motor vehicle while under the influence of liquor, returned a verdict of not guilty. Sixty per cent of the costs were placed on the defendant and 40 per cent on the prosecutor, Constable Raymond Talley, of Wampum. District Attorney Mont L. Ailey immediately made a motion that the costs as to Talley be stricken off, stating that he believed the officer acted in perfectly good faith in bringing the charge. Judge W. Walter Braham, before whom the case was tried, granted the motion.

It is easy to recognize a crisis. The English press says less about "vulgar Americans" and more about "racial ties."

Five Negroes Are Wounded In Pitched Battle

Clash With White Men Over Poaching On Trapping Lands In Louisiana

(International News Service)

NEW ORLEANS, Dec. 18.—Five negroes were wounded, two critically, in a clash with a group of armed white men over alleged poaching on trapping lands.

Headed by Sherwood C. Larkin, a group of five white trappers halted an automobile loaded with negroes to warn them about poaching on their trapping lines.

Suddenly the negroes' car started ahead, Larkin said, and one of its occupants opened fire with a shotgun on Larkin and his companions. An answering volley from the white men's guns sent the automobile into a ditch. Three of the negroes staggered out of the car and two others, possibly mortally wounded, were found inside.

Santa Will Visit Hospital Patients

Novel Santas For Hospital Patients Made By Holoche Girl Scouts

Santa Claus will visit every patient in both the Jameson Memorial and the New Castle hospital on Christmas Day. He will make his appearance at dinner time on the patients' tray, and will aid in spreading cheer to persons who must spend this day confined to a hospital.

Clever little Santas, each measuring six inches in height have been made by the girls from the Holoche Girl Scout troop during the past week in Thaddeus Stevens school. The novelties have been made from three parts of rolled cotton and proudly support black crepe paper hats on their heads. Attractive red crepe paper scarfs, ruffled on the edges, are about their shoulders, and their features have been added by the skillful use of black paint. Cotton arms have been fastened to the body and the entire figure is attached to a cardboard base in order that it will be able to stand on its friends' tray.

This work went on under the supervision of Miss Velma Pankratz and Miss Mildred Lusk, who have charge of Troop 12, of Thaddeus school. The girls gathered in the school every evening during the past week and prepared these heralds of good cheer.

Pymatuning Dam Level Is Raised

Flashboards Are Put In Place To Take Care Of Possible Additional Rise

RAISES LEVEL OF DAM TWO FEET

Equipment designed to hold back any sudden and unexpected rise of the waters of the Pymatuning Dam have been put in place under the direction of state engineers and the big dam is now equipped to hold an additional two-feet of water in an emergency.

This has been made possible by the installation of what is known as flashboards on top of the dam. These are three by eight inch timbers, anchored with heavy pipe into the concrete top of the spillway and held together with steel rods. The timbers extend across the 150-inch top of the spillway and are devised only for use in the event that it is deemed necessary to hold back a sudden runoff from the big watershed.

It is believed that the extra margin of capacity now available insures that there can never be any high water to speak of below the dam, Joseph Stiastny, resident engineer states. Any possible runoff can be handled and the excess water drained down the river as desired.

AROUND CITY HALL

Mayor Charles E. McGrath was an interested listener when liquor was discussed at the crime conference held this week at Harrisburg and during council session yesterday said he was one of the delegates who in open forum, said that the proposed legislative inquiry into the retail liquor set-up should be real. In fact, the mayor said yesterday that it was claimed that 90 per cent of crime was due to liquor. On several occasions the mayor has informally asserted his opinion concerning the manner in which some places are operated.

Representatives of a body works conferred not long ago with Mayor Charles E. McGrath in regard to the proposed patrol "wagon" which the city intends to buy. It is probable that the mayor will recommend a light body with a "gate" at the rear. The old cars used in the past as patrols are out of service. Councilman J. D. Alexander yesterday warned that they not be used at all because he had not taken out liability insurance for the machines.

Annually at this time of year businessmen prove the victim of men who issue rubber checks—worthless paper. Already one was victimized here. Police have time and time again issued warnings that no businessman cash a check for a stranger. However, the warnings are forgotten when too late. In most cases the men who give out worthless checks leave town immediately after having the checks cashed.

MARRIAGE IS MADE A "FAMILY AFFAIR"

(International News Service)

PITTSBURGH—When Miss Helen E. Douds decided to get married, her parents did the job up right and made it a family affair.

The ceremony was read by her mother, the Rev. Mrs. L. O. Douds, assisted by her father, the Rev. L. O. Douds, in the Haven M. E. church of which he is pastor.

Miss Douds, former Carnegie Tech art student, became the bride of Clifford Carr of Steubenville, O.

Her parents have alternated in performing the marriage ceremonies of two other children, Harold and Grace.

Anne Palco Wins Fourth Essay Prize

Friendship Street Girl Given Fourth Place In Recent Contest

Fourth prize in the essay contest conducted by the New Castle Works of the Carnegie-Illinois Steel Corporation on the Open House conducted October 28 has been awarded to Miss Anne Palco of 520 Friendship street. Her essay follows:

WHAT I SAW AT THE SHENANGO TIN MILL

I have always waited for an opportunity to go through a tin plate mill. As I first approached the plant it looked to me rather small, but after I once got inside, I changed my mind about that. I thought there would be no end to the mill. The noises and squeaks of all kinds of machinery, the voices of the employee representatives; the creaky sound of the skid crane all filled the air.

First I saw the bar storage where the iron bars are stored separately according to their thickness. These pig iron bars are raw material which are an oxide of iron usually contaminated by various impurities. The usual reducing agent is cake; and its combustion furnishes the heat necessary to melt the resulting iron and slag. Limestone is added as a flux and makes the slag more easily fussible. Slag is the refuse or sediment of melted metal. There bars are placed in the Hot Mill and when a certain high temperature is reached; two bars are rolled separately, then put together and rolled again and then doubled, making four sheets to the pack. The four sheets are reheated, rolled and doubled again; making eight sheets in each pack and then there eight sheets are reheated, rolled again to proper thickness and length. It certainly goes through a lot of heating and reheating.

Then these packs are taken to the Shear and Opening department. Here they are sheared to a certain size and opened one by one. From here they are taken into the Black Pickler where all the scum is taken off the sheets. The next step is to the Black Annealing. From here the sheets are taken to the Cold Rolls. They go through three cold roll passes. This flattens the sheets and give them a smooth surface. Next they are taken to the White Annealing furnace. Annealing is a process of gradually heating and cooling of metals for the purpose of being made less brittle. If the metal were cooled rapidly, the harder and more brittle it is; slow cooling makes a safer but more tenacious metal. The sheets are heated for eighteen hours to about 1400° F. This may seem like a very high temperature, but it isn't, compared to the melting point of iron which is 2,800° to about 3,000° F. This annealing process makes the sheets soft and pliable.

The final step is the White Pickler were the sulphuric acid H_2SO_4 is used in pickling. The purpose of using sulphuric acid is that it aids in removing particles of dirt and mill scale. It is first bathed in a strong solution then in a weaker solution. Then they are removed and placed in a Pickle Drier which dries the sheets. From here they are taken to the Tin House then to the Assorting Room where the ladies sort the tin out. From here they are taken to the Boxing Room where they are placed in boxes and taken to the Warehouse. Here they await trains where they will be taken away and shipped to different parts of the world.

It's so hard to believe that a piece of tin plate goes through such a tremendous amount of work. The most interesting fact is that if this product were laid in single sheets end to end it would extend to 37,500 miles or it would go one and half time around the world.

I certainly did appreciate my trip through the plant.

It is more interesting to see the process in action than just reading about it.

If he hoots at common people who sleep in their underwear, it means that he did until he married.

Red Cross To Renew Battle On Accidents

Will Conduct Campaign Throughout County Stressing Accident Prevention

DAVIS TELLS HOW TO AVOID INJURY

In an effort to eliminate the hazards which cause accidents in homes and on farms, the Lawrence County Chapter, American Red Cross, plans its second annual home and farm inspection campaign in the near future.

Through its home and farm accident prevention committee, of which R. F. Davis is chairman, several thousand home inspection blanks, listing the more common home and farm hazards will be distributed to the children in the schools of the county.

"Every accident that occurs has its source in a hazard of some sort, mental or otherwise," Mr. Davis said today in an appeal for public support of the accident program. "If we can do away with that source, we eliminate accidents, just as malaria and yellow fever were stamped out by draining stagnant ponds and pools which bred mosquitoes.

Briefly, and in a general way, the accident picture in the United States as the year nears its end is as follows, Mr. Davis pointed out: An estimated 110,000 dead, which is 9,000 more than last year; over 9,500,000 injured, with 40,000 deaths and half the injuries resulting from accidents in and about the home. Home fatalities in 1935 approximated 31,500.

In line with the Red Cross plan to widely publicize accident causes peculiar to the season, Mr. Davis said the seasonal hazards confronting everyone at present are those which have to do with winter weather and especially those attending holiday celebrations, including falls while hanging decorations, Christmas tree fires, injuries from dangerous toys and similar accidents.

In an effort to prevent the tragedies which invariably strike a certain number of homes during the holiday season, he listed a number of precautions which, if followed, will greatly reduce Christmas accidents. They are:

Anchor the Chritsmas tree on a firm base away from the fireplace or heating unit.

If possible, use only fire-resistant decorations, and while hanging them use a sturdy step-ladder. Be sure the braces are firmly locked before you go up.

Inspect all light sets carefully for bad insulation and other causes of short circuit before placing them on the tree.

If candles are used to light the tree, an adult should be in the room while they are burning.

Don't let Santa Claus smoke, and don't allow him too near the fireplace. His suit is generally highly inflammable.

Where fireworks are used to celebrate the holidays an adult should supervise the "shooting."

Insist on safety film for motion picture machines, and carefully explain the use of electrical and mechanical toys.

See that "safe" hills are provided for coasting, and caution the children again about "hitching" their sleds to automobiles.

In conclusion Mr. Davis also urged strict observance of all fire regulations regarding overcrowding and keeping exits clear at public holiday gatherings.

A resident of Birmingham, England, has one of the most peculiar jobs in the world. He collects insects cuts them in two, and mounts them on slides for microscopical investigation by students and scientists throughout the world.

Nitrogen was first recognized as a distinct substance in 1772 by Daniel Rutherford of the University of Edinburgh.

SENIOR HIGH SCHOOL NEWS

SOPHOMORES ELECT

COMMITTEES FOR PLAY NAMED

Tonight at 8:15, a cast of sixteen members of the graduating class will present the annual Senior A play. This year, the class has chosen "The Charm School" by Alice Duer Miller and Robert Hilton. The play is an entertaining, three act comedy, under the direction of Miss Clara Hartsuff.

Members of the Senior A class, who have been placed on the various committees have been working hard to make the play a success. Several of the committees are as follows: Patron and patroness—Marjorie Blim, Mary Crisci, Marjorie George, Sarah Kohn, Vera Lowry, Eleanore Markley, Dorothy Mellinger, Ruth Mercer, Constance Rainey, Jean Ramsey, Virginia Ramsey, Helen Wilson, Phyliss Woodworth, and Donald Lusk.

The ticket committee includes—Ella Bratchie, Virginia Lower, Jean Tinsley, Mary Dixon, Lois Davenport, Sutton Smith, George Stitzinger, Trevor Richards and Harry Dinsmore. Reservations are being handled by Charles Allen and George Swisher, ushers by Dale Grove and advertising by Clyde Brest and Bill Boston.

NE-CA-HI PERSONALS

Students will be glad to hear that Gillis Falls, Jr., who has been out of school with pneumonia, is recovering.

SENIOR DANCE SUCCESS

Friday evening, December 11, marked the first entrance of the Senior B class, under the leadership of their officers, President Bill Chip, Vice President Charles Mort, Secretary Ruth Shannon, Treasurer Charlotte Whiteman, and faculty advisor D. F. Copson, into the social world.

The Senior A class was invited, en masse, to the semi-annual Senior B-A dance and they enjoyed the affair very much. It gave mid-year graduates a rest, temporarily, in their preparations for their class play and commencement. Due to the earnest work of the committees and the cooperation of the entire senior class, the dance was one of the most successful ever held in the high school.

NOVEL REPORTS GIVEN

Three students in one of Miss Charlotte Taylor's English classes gave their book reports in a new and interesting manner on Tuesday morning. They drew pictures to illustrate scenes in the book. Those who did this were as follows: Rudolph Leban, "Beau Sabeaur" by Wren; Eloise Bishop, "The Cathedral" by Walpole; Leslie Matis, "Bambi".

ART DEPARTMENT BUSY

This week is a very busy one, again, for the art department, under the direction of Miss Bess Gailey. Besides the scheduled work on their Christmas articles, the art classes spent this week putting the finishing touches to their part of the work for the January 1937 annual. This includes the mounting of the regular pictures, snapshots, and baby pictures of the graduating class.

Members of the art classes are also doing the stage decorations for the Senior A play, "The Charm School", to be given Friday, December 18, and for the several Christmas chapel programs to be given before vacation.

RECEIVE SHORTHAND AWARDS

Miss Ellen L. Young announces that the following students have passed their Gregg shorthand sixty-word transcription test: Margaret Brooks, Virginia Cartwright, Catherine Clark, Ruth Clingan, Maxine Freeman, Katherine Jones, Lois Lang, Norma McLaughlin, Dorothy Reed, Jean Shoaf, Edward Spigler, Eileen Waite, Audrey Young.

Thomas Vallely was awarded a pin for having the best paper of this group.

HI-Y HEARS GARDNER

The regular meeting of the Lincoln Hi-Y was held on Wednesday, December 16, in the Y. M. C. Devotions were led by Francis Brookman after which the minutes of the previous meeting were read and dues collected.

A very interesting talk was given by Ralph H. Gardner. Old and new business was then taken up and the meeting was closed. The members retired to the swimming pool.

SENIOR HI-Y MONDAY

New Castle Senior Hi-Y held its regular weekly meeting Monday night at the Y. M. C. A. club room. It was announced to the club that there was to be a Hi-Y basketball tournament on Friday, December 18, on the "Y" floor. The club's team has been practising and expects to make a good showing.

After a short business meeting Bart Richards, of The New Castle News, was introduced to the club. Mr. Richards gave the club a valuable insight into the great newspaper industry. After the speech, the meeting was adjourned with the customary friendship circle.

WIN ESSAY AWARDS

Several weeks ago, after its successful "open house" day, the Carnegie-Illinois Steel Company announced that it would give prizes to those students of the high school who would write the best essays on the subject, "What I Saw on My Trip Through the Tin Mill."

This week, the prize winners were announced to be: Jean Short, Kenneth Farver, Margaret George, Ann Palco, Dennis Allshouse, Ruth Cartwright, John Black, and Martha Session. These pupils are to be congratulated on their splendid achievement.

NOONDAY ACTIVITIES POPULAR

Great interest has been shown by the students in the noonday activities. The dancing, sponsored by the student council has attracted approximately 400 students each Friday.

Joseph Replogle reports that the singing in the auditorium is a great success so far, 200 or 300 students having banned together each Friday to sing.

Outdoor football and the new debate classes have attracted their share of attention too. A questionnaire was sent out this week by Miss Rhodes to see if students were interested in the activities and it showed that they were genuinely interested in using their lunch periods profitably.

Ancient playing cards were painted by hand on pieces of ivory, parchment or wood.

AT night, sonny's energy is exhausted; his resistance lowered; circulation slows up; congestion seems worse.

Eustace Noted For Leg Strength

Will Depend Upon Scissors In Attempt To Defeat Middlekauf

MARTINI TO WRESTLE WALLICK

Wrestlers may come and grapplers may go but none of them has a stronger pair of legs or more gripping power than Allen Eustace, according to Peter Askounes, promoter, who has arranged to have Eustace oppose Bill Middlekauf in a benefit show for St. George's Greek Orthodox church here Monday night. Eustace and Middlekauf are heavyweights.

Eustace, a mid-westerner is said to have terrific leverage in his legs and once he wraps his pins around an opponent's "tummy" there soon emanates from said opponent gasps. However, Middlekauf is said to know his holds and if both live up to what Mr. Askounes has said about them the fans should see a good bout which is scheduled to go to one fall.

Martini Coming Back

Leo Wallick of Youngstown is matched to oppose Angelo Martini of Italy in the semi-final. Wallick won from Tony Marchoni after 53 minutes but Martini passed out of the picture after five minutes wrestling with Bob Blake.

Bob Blake, probably the youngster of the outfit (excepting for Morrie Suber) will take on Marchoni who wants to redeem himself. Tony's arm was injured in the last show and he had to give up to Wallick. He has oodles of experience on Blake and may come through. He has wrestled here in three fourths of the shows promoted.

The Sailor Parker-Morrie Suber curtain-raiser should be fast. Both are light-heavyweights and can take it. Suber's last appearance was an exhibition with Blake.

The first bout Monday at the arena will start at 8:30 p. m.

Judges Decide School Contest

George Washington Junior High And Thaddeus Stevens Win Newspaper Contest

SELECTIONS ARE HARD TO DECIDE

Announcement was made today that the judges have completed their work of judging the entries in the newspaper contest conducted among the schools of the city and county by the Lawrence County Anti-Tuberculosis society, and that George Washington junior high school was named the winner in the junior high division and Thaddeus Stevens in the grade school division.

The judges, Dr. Charles H. Whalen, Charles E. Allen, and A. Bruce Ewing had a difficult time in picking the winners, as the different schools submitted some excellent entries and seemed to enter into the spirit of the contest with surprising knowledge and skill.

Due to the fact that there was no entry in the Senior High School group, the money which was allocated for this prize will be distributed as second prize money to second place winners, as follows:

Junior high school group, Bessemer, second prize; honorable mention, Hillsville and New Bedford.

Grade school group—second prizes Arthur McGill, Terrace Avenue, Oak street, and Lincoln and Garfield. Honorable mention, W. N. Aiken, Highland avenue, Croton avenue, West Side, and Edenburg.

First prize money is five dollars, and second prize is one dollar.

Hute Not Guilty; Prosecutrix Pays

In the case of Charles Hute, charged with assault and battery, the jury at Lawrence county court today returned a verdict of not guilty and placed the costs on the prosecutrix, Ethel Cumberledge. Hute admitted that he had struck the defendant, but claimed that it was an accident.

Post Office To Serve Saturday Crowds Until 5

That patrons might be better accommodated, all windows of the New Castle post office will be kept open Saturday until 5 p.m., Postmaster Richard A. Steen announced today.

The windows usually close at 12:30 on Saturdays.

"We want to make it convenient for the mailing public to get packages off tomorrow that otherwise would be held over to Monday. We ask for full cooperation—and we urge that the parcels be mailed at once," was the postmaster's statement.

The holiday mailing this morning was reported as light by the postmaster, who believes this afternoon and Saturday will bring the first "real signs of rush."

The office has made preparations for an anticipated deluge of holiday mailers next week.

Hunt For Missing Plane Has Spread

Latest Reports Cause Search To Be Made In State Of Nevada

(International News Service)

LOS ANGELES, Dec. 18.—Search for the airliner which disappeared last Tuesday with seven persons aboard, spread from Utah into Nevada today, according to word received here at Western Air Express headquarters from Vice President Allen Barrie.

Barrie reported lights had been seen on the hills near Tonopah, Nev., in an inaccessible desert country. He expressed the possibility that these may have been signals from the distressed ship.

Barrie also revealed he had been informed that an amateur radio operator had picked up reports from a plane near Tybo, Nev., Tuesday.

Trailer Trippers Increasing Here

Scattering all through the sunshine belt of the United States this winter will be New Castle house trailers, in the opinion of B. N. Hanlon, manager of the New Castle Motor club.

"We have had a large increase in the number of trailer applications this year,' said Mr. Hanlon, "and many of them were from people who intend to go south and west this winter. Some of them plan on staying all their time in Florida, others will tour the southern states between Florida and the gulf towns in Mississippi, others are planning to tour Texas and California."

"More and more people are learning the joys of living on wheels,' said Hanlon. "It is as cheap a way as there is to spend the winter and the motorist who has a trailer never has to worry about janitors who forget to fire the furnace, agents who ring the front door bell, or looking at the same scenery every morning."

Plea Is Entered In Liquor Case

John Grinzevich, who was granted a new trial in an opinion handed down by Judge W. Walter Braham on Wednesday, came into court this morning and entered a plea of guilty to the second count of the indictment against him. He was charged with manufacturing liquor on the first count and possessing liquor on the second. Upon his entering a plea on the second count, District Attorney Mont L. Ailey entered a nolle pros on the first count. Grinzevich was alleged to have been mixed up in a liquor case in South New Castle borough in which two others were sentenced.

He is a hotel owner of Findlay, O., and has renamed his hotel the Franklin in honor of the highway name. Through the work of Mr. Williamson and his associates many of whom are from New Castle, the Benjamin Franklin highway is now a federal route, being given the number 224 several years ago.

The Supreme Gift Of Love

"Brass Tacks" On The Sunday School Lesson

The Golden Text

Luke 2:14—"Glory to God in the highest, and on earth peace among men in whom he is well pleased."

By DR. ALVIN E. BELL

(The International Uniform Lesson for Dec. 20 is 1 John 2:14, "Glory to God in the highest, and on earth peace among men in whom he is well pleased.)

CHRISTMAS is pre-eminently the festival of love. Back of the first Christmas gift to the world was the love wherewith "God so loved the world, that he gave his only begotten Son, that whosoever believeth in him should not perish, but have everlasting life."

The Supreme Proofs of Love

It is natural that John, the apostle of love, and" the disciple Jesus loved" should interpret Christmas in terms of love. As the last of the apostles, perhaps approaching a round century in age, he wrote this letter, which may be the very latest New Testament book, to Christians, whom he addressed as "my little children." No man then living knew more intimately the love of God than did John and he would have said that he learned it all from Jesus Christ. To him the supreme proofs of the love of God for the world were found in the birth and death of Jesus Christ. "Herein was the love of God manifested in us, that God hath sent his only begotten Son into the world that we might live through him. Herein is love, not that we loved God, but that he loved us, and sent his Son to be the propitiation for our sins."

God The Source of Love

John gives us our best definition of God when he says "God is love." As such God is the source of all love "Love is of God." Love is the distinguishing trait of all God's children if they are to look like and "take after" their Father: " Everyone that loveth is begotten of God and knoweth God. He that loveth not knoweth not God; for God is love." We cannot have and enjoy the divine love for which Christmas stands without radiating it and sharing it. Christmas not only confers a blessing, but it also creates a responsibility: "Beloved, if God so loved us, we also ought to love one another." The essence of the Christmas spirit is this spontaneous desire to share as God shared his Son with us.

The Saviour's Birth

John rejoiced in Christmas because to him it connoted primarily the birth of a Saviour: "We beheld and bear witness that the Father hath sent the Son to be the Saviour of the world." This is in accord with the angel's message to Joseph, "Thou shalt call his name Jesus: for it is he that shall save his people from their sins." It is in accord also with the message of the angel to the shepherds. "There is born to you this day in the City of David, a Saviour, who is Christ the Lord." God's primary object back of Christmas was the world's salvation "Herein is love, not that we loved God, but that he loved us, and sent his Son to be the propitiation of our sin." Our sin created the necessity for Christmas which God's love and grace met in the incarnation and atonement of the Son of God.

Love Casts Out Fear

The angel's message to Zacharias in preparation for Christmas was, "Fear not, Zacharias," to Mary, "Fear, not, Mary;" to Joseph, "Joseph fear not," and to the shepherds, "Be not afraid." Fear entered the world with sin in Eden. Christ came into the world to destroy sin and cast out fear; "There is no fear in love; but perfect love casteth out fear."

AT 18, YOUTH HAS LONG CRIME RECORD

INDIANAPOLIS, Ind. — Chester Steele, 18, of Aurora, Ind., who has been sentenced to a two-year term by Federal court here for stealing an automobile, began his car snatching when he was eight years old.

Probation officials learned that he stole his first automobile when he was barely able to see over the steering wheel and that he also had a record of horse-and-buggy thefts.

Steele was arrested in a stolen car shortly after he had been released from the Federal Reformatory at Chillicothe, O., where he had served a term for vehicle theft.

Tuberculosis Being Fought

State-Wide Crusade To Protect School Children From Tuberculosis Planned

(International News Service)

HARRISBURG, Dec. 18.—Inaugurating the new program in schools of Fayette county, the department of health was carrying out plans today for a state-wide crusade to protect children from tuberculosis.

The program, made possible by federal social security funds, consists of the taking of skin tests of students by physicians and nurses followed by X-ray of those who react positively to the examinations.

Two Mobile X-ray laboratories will be used for the examinations, it was announced.

"Not only will this give us an excellent picture of the extent of the disease," Dr. Edith MacBride-Dexter, health secretary, said, 'but it will certainly uncover many cases in the early stages, which might otherwise go undetected until the disease was far advanced."

City Secures License Plates For 50 Machines

City of New Castle owns approximately 50 pieces of motorized equipment for which license plates already have been received for 1937 and will be placed on the cars and trucks within the next couple of days. There are other pieces of equipment which operate only on city property and therefore do not require any license, it was learned at city hall today.

The city received license plates for the Buick which has been used as a patrol for the past several years. A license also was received for the old patrol. However, 'hese cars have been removed from service.

FLEES FROM FRYING PAN INTO A FIRE

(International News Service)

BERLIN—A motorist from Aix le Chapelle, who has just learned to drive, narrowly missed knocking down a motorcyclist near a village in the Eifel mountains.

Preparing to apologize, he discovered to his horror that the cyclist was a country policeman and "stepped on the gas".

The policeman followed on his motorcycle. Turning a bend in the road the motorist espied an open garage door. Breathlessly, he dashed inside and closed the door.

After a moment or so he heard the policeman arrive outside, dismount from his cycle and give way to an exclamation of disgust that the motorist had escaped him.

There was a pause. The motorist held his breath. Then he heard a key being inserted in the lock of the garage door, the door opened and the policeman entered pushing his motorcycle

TANGERINES EASILY PEELED

Tangerines are in the markets. They are so easy to peel that even the youngest generation can "unwrap" them themselves to eat fresh, luscious and healthful sections. Tuck one in Junior's lunchbox right today.

Contrary to common belief, common garden moles seldom eat vegetable food of any kind. Their diet consists chiefly of earthworms, grubs and various insects.

Britain Will Retain Vessels

United States Will Not Object To Invocation Of Escalator Clause In Treaty

(International News Service)

LONDON, Dec. 18.—Announcing one more step in the rapid expansion of Britain's navy, Sir Samuel Hoare, first lord of the admiralty, told the House of Commons today the government intends to invoke the escalator clause of the new London naval treaty to retain five overage cruisers.

These vessels originally had been scheduled to be scrapped before the end of the year.

Sir Samuel declared assurance already had been received that the United States would not object to the move, and he added Japan likewise was expected to offer no objection.

Both countries will be notified officially of Britain's intentions within the next few days, he said.

"In view of the deterioration of the general international situation, this obviously is not a moment when any power would wish to scrap serviceable vessels," Sir Samuel said by way of explanation.

It isn't a real boom yet. People don't yet trade in a good car just because the radiator ornament changes.

Former Physician, Now Druggist Has Enviable Record

(International News Service)

JOHNSTOWN, Pa., Dec. 18.—Dr. W. S. Shields, Marion Center, Indiana county, was honored on his 89th birthday recently as one of the few persons who can boast of being both a doctor and acting pharmacist at his age.

Dr. Shields, in good health, is the only Civil War veteran in Marion Center, where he has resided for more than 50 years. He is also the only known survivor of Company G of the First Pennsylvania Light Artillery.

During the administration of President Benjamin Harrison, Dr. Shields served as postmaster of Marion Center, continuing his medical practice at the same time.

At the age of 53 he retired from the medical profession to establish a drugstore, which he and a son, Benjamin Shields, have operated ever since.

GATE LIES DOWN

(International News Service)

WELLINGTON, New Zealand—A gate that lies down when automobiles want to pass through has been invented by two farmers, J. J. and J. N. van Rhyn, living near here. On the approach of the car, the gate falls. After the car has passed over it, the gate rises into position again.

Congress will aid the farmer next year, we read in a news item. Somehow, that statement looks as though it were printed with a rubber stamp.

My New York

By James Aswell

Copyright, 1936, Central Press Association

NEW YORK, Dec. 18—A bigger proportion of Christmas business than ever before is going to the dogs this year. Which is to say, the kennel czars and pet shop operators of the metropolitan area are wallowing in lucre.

Once upon a time there was a hue and cry over the stolen automobile racket. Dark tales were told of garages, which operated solely to disguise and refinish "hot" cars, so that these might be sold to unwary buyers of used buggies with forged bills of sale and other such sinister devices.

You don't hear so much about the stolen car business any more, although I have no doubt, judging from insurance rates now in force hereabout, that the scoundrels are still up to their tricks. But you hear a great deal about the stolen dog racket.

There are illicit pet stores where dogs filched from apartment lobbies and even from the very leashes of strollers are supplied with phoney pedigrees and offered to buyers of Christmas animals. The racket is safer, they say, than the practices of the auto thieves, and conducted on a wholesale basis, extremely profitable.

Of course, the reputable shops, which are in the majority are outraged by the situation because this is a year when there is a boom in dog buying never before equalled, and they want to reap their just reward from the demand. Any pedigreed pooch is likely to bring $50 in the open market and the exceptionally favored dogs, with glittering family trees, fetch well up into the hundreds.

South and Central America have grown increasingly dog-conscious, and they tend to buy their pets from American breeds. The expert trade, I hear, will top $15,000,000 this year—which is a thumping figure for the dog business. Railroads which once set a $25 maximum recovered value on dogs lost in transit have installed a 1% insurance charge so that owners can insure their show specimens up to any amount.

And the sign, "No Dogs Allowed" is becoming rarer in New York apartment house foyers. A great tolerance in this respect has crept upon the town; in a few years I expect New Yorkers will be as dog-tolerant as Parisians who think nothing of holding a wolfhound in their laps while supping soup in the Bois.

In my own building there are so many dogs that attendants are doing heavy Christmas shopping out of their nightly walking fees. One spinster lady moved in with a single pekinese, two year ago. Shortly thereafter she acquired a second and now she has four. She exits and enters behind her woofing beasts like a driver of a Roman chariot and once they all went haywire and tangled the feet of half a dozen elevator riders in such a muddle that a pause of ten minutes was necessary while the operator helped extricate the tenants.

Meanwhile, the fanciers argue over Albert Payson Terhune's explantaion of why dogs bite. Mr. Terhune, if my memory serves, put his foot in it a year or two ago when he came out with a statement on the low incidence of rabies and spoofed cautious citizens for having more dogs killed than necessary out of hydrophobia panic. Medical men here and there hopped on this one and now they are taking apart Mr. Terhune's theory that dogs bite because they smell adrenalin in the air, the result of fright on the part of their victims, causing great glandular activity.

The medicos say humans don't smell much differently when they are afraid. They imply that dogs bite because they are angry, or, for all I know, because they are hungry. The medicos sound convincing. But what Mr. Terhune wanted was simply to say a kind word for dogs, which he loves. I am for him.

The trouble is, Mr. Terhune only finds it necessary to utter his kind words about dogs at long intervals. He used to write some fine dog stories. Now the populace is so sold on dogs that Mr. Terhune is in the position of a crusader with a war won. People are becoming so kind to animals here that I am told the directors of the S. P. C. A. are worried: they may sometime in the future, have to disband from nothing to do.

WOMEN ROB GRAVES

(International News Service)

BELGRADE—Superstitious women who steal candles, flowers, wreaths and other articles from graves in order to work spells have forced the director of Belgrade cemetery to apply to the police for special guards. Some of the women, it is stated, come from the wealthiest families in the country.

Many Students Appear In Play

Large Cast In "The Charm School," Senior Play At School Tonight

Completing the cast of the senior class play, "The Charm School" to be presented tonight besides those whose pictures have already appeared in the earlier announcements, are several students who were in the cast of the recently produced comedy, "Seven Chances." Mary Ellen Henderson transforms herself from a "managing" wife in "Seven Chances" to the vice principal, "loved and feared by all" in "The Charm School." As Miss Hayes, she keeps order in the school when, under the guidance of its new principal and his staff of charming young men, it threatens to disintegrate into chaos. "Bob" Cole has put on years rapidly since he was a carefree young blade in "Seven Chances," a few short weeks ago; he is now in his role in the senior play, a New York lawyer of more than middle age. We wonder how he will manage the middle-aged weight which he is supposed to have. Margaret Bechtol has much the same sort of young girl's part that she had in "Seven Chances." She is one of the devoted satellites of the handsome young man who has been rash enough to assume the principalship of a school he has inherited.

Gertrude Hitchcock, Ruth Llewellyn, Jean Riley, Rose Russell, Claire Schiffman and Helen Wilson are Dotsie, Virginia, Alix, Madge, and so on, students in "The Charm School." They are all well known seniors and their friends guarantee that they had charm before they were enrolled in "The Charm School" cast, but that their capacity for pranks has been considerably increased

CHRISTMAS PROGRAM MATERIAL AVAILABLE

"At Christmas, play and make good cheer,
For Christmas comes but once a year."

So runs the ancient rhyme. Rural organizations want to make the most of their programs during the Christmas season. To help them in planning for these community events, the Agricultural Extension Service has developed a free mimeograph, "Christmas Cheer".

It is divided into three parts, the first containing plans for a Christmas party. This contains suggestions for invitation, decorations, costumes, gifts, games, stunts and refreshments.

Part II is a "Caroling Party". It contains help on what carols to use, sources of music, how to go, when to go, and how the caroling group can be organized.

Part III is a "Christmas Program" for rural organizations. It contains suggestions for tableaux, poems, plays, cantatas, operettas, pageants, festivals, stories and other Christmas materials.

This mimeograph is available free of charges to community leaders. It may be obtained from the Agricultural Extension office, No. 206 Post Office building, New Castle, Pa.

KILL RATS IN BUILDING WITH RED SQUILL BAITS

Although some persons might like to play Pied Piper to the rats, there is a more effective modern way of ridding the premises of these pests.

Severely cold weather has driven the rats out of the fields into the buildings. Here the rodents proceed to eat without paying their board bills and in other ways make themselves troublesome. Any time the snow is not too deep is a good time to kill rats.

Quick eradication of the pests will save grain and other property that the rats destroy. Red squill is the safest poison to use. Rats are killed by it but the substance is relatively non-toxic to all other animals and birds.

Baits are prepared by mixing one part of red squill powder in 10 parts of meat, fish and rolled oats. These three baits should be used in each rat run and all buildings should be baited on the same day.

One baiting, if made correctly, should largely reduce the rat population. In fact, some farmers have been able to clean out the rats by poisoning with red squill.

STRAWBERRY VARIETIES DIFFER IN QUALITIES

Nursery publications now appearing in the mails renew the battle of varieties. To the onlooker the struggle is somewhat confusing and the result a problem.

"What strawberry varieties shall I plant?" the grower may well ask. The final decision is not an easy one to reach.

The first step is to consider the intended use, home consumption or wholesale marketing. Many varieties, excellent for home use, do not pass the test for wholesale markets. They fall down in yield and shipping quality. Many varieties suitable for the commercial trade do not fill the bill for home use. A general purpose berry, if such existed, would be the salvation of strawberry producers.

Practically every year new varieties are introduced and an equal number are discarded. There is a constant shifting of the varieties planted, but many old varieties are equal and even superior to the new creations when the dual-purpose berry is considered.

Should William Belt, Corsican, Chesapeake, Howard 17 (Premier) of Aberdeen be discarded and future plantings be made entirely of new varieties, such as Dorsett, Fairfax, Catskill, Clermont or Culver? Yes, if they are less productive but strawberry variety demonstrations during 1935 and 1936 through Pennsylvania indicate the production of the varieties mentioned to be in the following order: Aberdeen, Howard 17, Catskill, Clermont, Dorsett, Fairfax, William Belt, Corsican and Big Joe.

For commercial purposes Howard 17, Catskill, Dorsett and Corsican will be found the most satisfactory as to yield and quality. Aberdeen with an adequate moisture supply will be found to be the heaviest yielder. In the case of berries for home use Howard 17, Dorsett, Corsican, Catskill and Fairfax will be most satisfactory.

PRACTICE GULLY CONTROL BEFORE IT IS TOO LATE

Between now and the time the ground is covered with snow it is wise to check over your farm and plan to do some gully control work.

One of the commonest methods is filling gullies with refuse of all kinds. This will give considerable protection if care is taken to place the materials in the gully in the proper manner. Dumping materials into a gully in a haphazard manner gives little or no protection, as the water simply flows under or around the refuse and cutting or scouring of the soil continues.

Old fence posts, corn stover and tree trimmings are excellent materials to use. Fence posts should be placed crosswise in the gully. Corn stover and tree trimmings should be tramped in and staked firmly against the bottom of the gully. The tassel end of the corn stalks and the forked part of the tree trimmings should be laid up the gully so as to catch any refuse or soil coming down from above. Start at the lower end of the gully and work up hill.

The use of temporary check dams is also quite effective and one of the simplest kinds is the sod bag type. This type should be used in gullies that are on gentle slopes and where the run off is not too great. Burlap sacks, such as are used for fertilizer and feed, filled with soil and tied are placed tightly end to end across the gully. If some oats and timothy seed can be worked around the bag between the soil and the burlap, it is wise to do so.

The bags should be placed so that about one-third of the thickness of the bag is embedded in the soil and then firmly staked down. Never put bags one on top of another. The ends of the sod bag dam should be made higher than the center so as to prevent water from cutting around the ends.

GIVE CHRISTMAS GIFTS FROM THE PANTRY SHELF

What shall I give for Christmas! This need not be a difficult problem for the woman who has a heavily laden pantry shelf. There is nothing which makes a nicer gift or one which is more appreciated than canned foods, jellies, or relishes, says Miss Mary Vogle, home economics extension representative in Lawrence county.

Canned vegetables and fruits, relishes, jellies and preserves in attractive containers and tied up with a bit of red ribbon and sprig of pine or holly cannot help but receive an exclamation of joy from those who are not fortunate enough to have a supply of home canned products to choose from daily.

An ideal way of remembering a sick friend or invalid during the Christmas season is to give several small containers of your favorite jellies wrapped in silver paper or you may prefer to send several bottles of fruit juices, packed in a gay container.

Dried fruits or vegetables such as apples or corn are always received with enthusiasm.

Another suggestion which may help to solve the problem for many busy homemakers, is to make extra Christmas cakes or puddings when the family supply is being made. Christmas cookies cut in fancy shapes can be arranged in many different ways. They make an excellent gift for those friends who have "just everything". The cookies may be packed in inexpensive Christmas boxes or colored cellophane and tied with ribbon.

Mimeographed sheets containing recipes for filling the holiday cookie jar may be received from the Agricultural Extension Office, No. 206 Post Office building.

Those who wish to spend a bit more money for gifts may prefer to place some Christmas food in an ovenglass or pottery container or on a basket or tray which may still be used long after the pudding or cake has disappeared.

Home made candies and sweet meats are nice Christmas gifts. Two very interesting bulletins on home made candies are available also by calling at the Agricultural Extension office.

The scrap bag frequently offers suggestions for solving the Christmas problems.

The simplest materials are often all that are required but before making anything think whether or not the gift will be useful to the person who receives it. Is is something you would like to have, if you were in your friend's position?

Too often a gift is another dirt catcher, white elephant, something to take up storage space, or a problem to use. Towels, aprons, hot dish holders or breakfast cloths to be used in the kitchen are welcomed by the busy home maker. The scrap bag will yield many pieces which can go into the making of these or patch work pillows, appliques for covers and mats.

Say it with home-produced gifts this Christmas and see how happy you can make others at such a small outlay of money.

Wealthy Mining Executive Wins Suit In Court

Was Tricked Into Breach Of Promise Suit Says New York City Judge

(International News Service)

NEW YORK, Dec. 18.—Because, he alleges, he was lured by a ruse to Florida to be served in a $500,000 breach of promise suit, Edgar L. Newhouse, Jr., mining executive, won a victory Thursday in Federal court.

Judge Knox refused to transfer a judgment for $175,000 obtained by Mrs. Sarah Wyman, a widow, in Miami, holding that trickery was used in involving Newhouse.

In an affidavit, Newhouse set forth that late in 1935 Mrs. Wyman bombarded him with telegrams and letters urging him to come to see her because she was going abroad to her mother, who was dying.

Served With Papers

Finally, he said, he decided to go to Florida. He took a plane. On landing he was promptly served by deputy sheriff. He tried to approach Mrs. Wyman, standing nearby, he said, but she departed without speaking to him. He took the next train back to New York, and, on advice of his attorney, ignored the suit.

Newhouse says that he has known Mrs. Wyman since 1915. Her husband died in 1922, when their acquaintance was renewed.

"She knew all along that I was a married man with children, and that my wife was alive during all our acquaintance," the affidavit reads.

Newhouse also submitted one of the letters she wrote, urging him to come to Miami.

Sea Serpent Is Reported Sighted

(International News Service)

NEW YORK, Dec. 18.—A bit early in the season for sea serpents, perhaps—but the story of this one comes from no less a reliable source than the estimable skipper of the Boston fishing trawler Winthrop.

Mackay Radio, which reports shipwrecks and other minor matters as well as sea-going heebie-jeebies, received this wireless message from the Winthrop today:

"Sea serpent 100 feet long sighted this afternoon: came to surface alongside boat. Was of grayish color, with two wings, shaped like fins, and large dorasl fins. Was covered with barnacles.

"Head had blow-hole, but head was not like that of whale and the body was narrower."

On Court House Hill

The Singer Sewing Machine company has filed a writ in replevin against Chief Sunlight and Princess Sunlight, to secure possesion of a sewing machine purchased by the defendants on a bailment lease. The chief and princess were arrested some time ago for practicing medicine without being duly registered, and are now guests of the sheriff in the county jail.

In the case of the commonwealth against John Grinevich, who was found guilty on charges of manufacturing and possessing liquor, Judge W. Walter Braham has handed down an opinion in which the defendant is granted a new trial. The application for the new trial was made on the grounds that the verdict was against the weight of the evidence and on exceptions to the charge of the court.

In the case of F. W. Hall, G. M. Arp, Theodore Artmore and Harvey Sumney against Steve Rosorhan, the defendants have filed an answer to the statement of claim in which many of the allegations contained in the statement are denied. The case is one growing out of a coal lease taken in Mahoning township, about which there is some dispute as to the terms.

Additional leases, taken by the Carnegie Natural Gas company in Shenango township, have been entered at the register and recorder's office. Those leasing their property are as follows: Nina C. Baldwin, Julius P. Zurasky, Andy Lysko, Cora Reno, Clarence Farrell, William Zehner, Earl L. Stevens, Arminta Jones, Herman Newton, Frank Guminenny, Pete Staranska, Charles Staph, Stanley Klodgy, Francis Reno, Joseph Wejnar, Ignatz Kwolek, G. L. Reno, John H. Black, Lloyd Moore, Ignac Cycon, John McConahy, John Lechner, Julian Gurgacz, A. W. Kline, Stanley Gorgacz, Andy Sniezek, C. P. Craig, Fidelia Hoover, W. M. Sankey, W. T. Houk, Charles Harbison, John Kruck, Anna Milliron, John Houk, Matilda S. Rose, Andy Carlson, Joseph Deloski, John Bober, Stanley Presnar, D. F. Newton, Frank L. Jakiella, John Krupa, William Carlon, W. T. Shallenberger, W. E. Currie, J. C. Baldwin, Louis Lundeen, Frank Granata, Samuel Fowler, August Arnold, H. D. Smith and Frank Kissella.

The Luther Woods heirs, by Viola C. Woods, has filed at the prothonotary's office an appeal from the city assessment on the property at the northeast corner of Washington and Mill streets. The petition sets forth that the property has a frontage of 53.4 feet on Washington street, extending back along Mill street to an alley a distance of 180 feet.

The property was assessed by the city assessor for the triennial period of 1937-8 and 9, at $106,660. Objections to the assessment were made to the board of revision, but the board refused to make any changes and sustained the assessor.

The appeal to court is based on the proposition that the land value is not equitably assessed in comparison with adjoining and comparable properties on other corners of the two streets. The land value placed on the Woods property was $2000 per Washington street front.

It is claimed that on the northwest corner of Mill and Washington street 38 feet is assessed as $2000 per foot front, while the property immediately to the west is assessed at $1700 per foot front. On the southwest corner of Mill and Washington 21.6 feet is assessed at $2000 per foot front, and the property adjoining to the west at $1700 per foot front. On the southeast corner there is a $2000 assesment and a $1700 adjoining, while the entire Woods property frontage is assessed at $2000. The other corner lots being narrower than the Woods lots, and the adjoining lots being assessed at $1700, it is claimed that it is not equitable to assess the entire Woods frontage at the $2000 rate.

Judge James A. Chambers has set December 29 as a time for hearing the case. This is the first case that has reached the courts in which the new triennial assessment is questioned.

After the assessors complete their work all property owners have the right to appear before the board of appeals and so far the board has been able to adjust the differences.

The land at the four corners of Mill and Washington streets is generally considered to be the most valuable in the city. The buildings are appraised separately from the land, but both land and buildings go to make up the total valuation.

Cabinet Stories Are Discounted

President Roosevelt Not Likely To Make Any Changes In Present Cabinet

(International News Service)

WASHINGTON, Dec. 18.—White House aides close to President Roosevelt were inclined to discount today constantly recurring stories and rumors of a major cabinet shake-up immediately after the first of the year.

Secretary of War Woodring is holding a temporary appointment and it is quite probable he will be succeeded permanently. There has also been some discussion of the possibility that Postmaster General James A. Farley would retire for personal financial reasons, but so far the White House has not been so advised.

There is no hard and fast rule which requires cabinet officers to automatically submit their resignations at the end of a president's term. Some officials feel they were appointed originally for only four years and therefore should give Mr. Roosevelt the opportunity to make a new appointment for his second term if he so desires.

The matter of such resignations however will be up to the individuals and their conception of what is proper.

Close friends of the president point out that he never has been prone to shaking-up his official family.

Kittanning, Pa. Police Puzzled

Series Of Robberies Baffles Officers, Five Occur In One Night

(International News Service)

KITTANNING, Pa., Dec. 18—A series of minor store robberies in this area Thursday had police and county authorities completely baffled as they investigated five robberies here which climaxed a four day outbreak of outlawry in which eight separate cases of breaking and entering were reported.

Biggest victim in the latest robberies was the service station here operated by Don and Robert Lasher, who reported $50 missing from their till this morning. Other stores entered included two grocery establishments, a meat market and a fruit store last night, added to two store robberies Monday and one on Sunday.

Chief of Police Samuel Densmore said there were no clues of a worthwhile nature which might aid him in capturing the thieves.

In almost all cases, the robbers gained entrance by smashing the glass in the store door windows.

May Make Girl's Dresses Of Glass

Textile Engineers Have Evolved Process Of Making Glass Cloth

(International News Service)

TOWANDA, Pa., Dec. 18.—Glass—for centuries thought of as something hard and brittle—is being woven into a fabric so soft and pliable it takes no stretch of the imagination to think of chorus girls' dresses being made from it in the not far distant future.

Success of experiments secretly carried on for weeks at the No. 1 plant of the Joseph Berlinger Silk Company at Towanda has finally been admitted by Jack Breen, textile engineer and general superintendent. That glass cloth actually is a fact—no longer just a hope—has also been confirmed by the Owens-Illinois Glass Company and the Corning Glass Works, among the largest glass manufacturing concerns in the world, both of whom have been pioneering in the development of glass yarn since it was discovered about six years ago that it could be produced.

Up to the present time the best that had been possible was to braid the yarn but few uses could be found for the braid.

Hundreds of uses for the glass cloth have been thought of and already many tests are under way, although the first piece of such fabric ever successfully produced on a commercial basis was turned out of the Towanda mill only a few weeks ago.

That piece was 75 yards long and 30 inches wide. It was substituted for canvas on a huge acid filtering drum. After it had been on for more than 500 hours it was found to show no signs of deterioration whereas in the past the canvas has had to be changed every 12 hours. It was need for such a cloth in filtering that was one of the principal reasons for the great effort expended in producing it.

Coal Production Holding Up Good

(International News Service)

WAYNESBURG Dec. 18—In spite of seasonal suspension of Great Lakes shipping activities in which most of the country's coal is used, Green county coal production remained higher than average during November.

November production totalled 398,503 tons, a decrease of only 24,931 tons from October. Another factor affecting the decrease was the 21 working days in last month.

Coal production in the county thus far in 1936 is 3,516,053 tons. The years production will be the greatest of any year since 1930.

Valley Forge Plan Meets Opposition

Believed That There Is Not Enough Historical Data To Restore It

(International News Service)

VALLEY FORGE, Pa., Dec. 18.—Can Valley Forge actually be restored to the way it looked when George Washington and his tattered army encamped there during the terrible winter of 1777?

Gov. George H. Earle thinks it can and wants the civilian conservation corps workers to undertake the job under direction of the national park service.

Sharply opposed to the governor's plan for Valley Forge, however, is Albert Cook Meyers, chairman of the historical committee of the Valley Forge park commission. He holds that there is not enough historical data for accurate duplication of the entrenchments or buildings that sheltered the American troops, and that the construction would clutter the "rustic beauty of the park with ugly structures."

Dr. Ellis Paxson Oberholtzer, historian and former member of the park commission, has taken a similar stand. Supporting Governor Earle's plan for rebuilding the park are emergency conservation work officials who point to restoration work successfully done in other parts of the country.

Long Search May Yet Be Rewarded

(International News Service)

PHILADELPHIA, Dec. 18—Chemical scientists are searching for a formula which when injected into the human body may prevent cancer or arrest its growth.

Although the goal is still far off it will be reached some day, Dr. Francis Carter Wood, director of the Crocker cancer research laboratory of Columbia University declared at a cancer forum here.

He said the first step was to discover whether there is some chemical in the body that causes cancer, and then to find a substance that will neutralize these chemicals and thus prevent the growth.

The appeal depicts the merits of cabbages in glowing terms. The appeal states that if every German housewife used what was in season the food shortage would be overcome.

Rabbi Norman H. Diamond Will Speak On "How To Foster Good-Will"

Regular Sabbath services will be held at Temple Israel this evening at 8 o'clock. The biblical portions of the week are taken from the forty-seventh chapters of Genesis and the thirty-second of Isaiah. Rabbi Norman H. Diamond will preach on "How to Foster Good-Will."

Last Sunday, the Sisterhood of the Temple under the direction of Mrs. J. Conn, Religious chairman, gave a Channukah luncheon to the children of the Religious school. Gifts were exchanged among them and then followed games. Natalie Ehrlich of the pre-confirmation class pronounced the invocation.

The rabbi spoke to the Hadassah at an Oneg Shabbat on the observance of the Sabbath. He was also invited to address the Y. P. C. U. of the Highland Avenue Presbyterian church, and talked on the subject of Channukah at chapel services at Westminster College.

Erie Youth Faces Charges, Killed His Boy Friend

(International News Service)

ERIE, Pa., Dec. 18.—An 11-year-old grammar school student, William Hoydic, was shot and killed today by a 17-year-old youth who asserted "he didn't know the gun was loaded," Erie police reported. Hoydic died eight hours after he was wounded in the head.

The youth, Arthur Sweeney, was to be charged with involuntary manslaughter at a hearing before an alderman this afternoon.

"I pointed my rifle at him," police quoted Sweeney as saying, "when he said he wasn't afraid of it. I didn't know it was loaded when I pulled the trigger."

After the shooting, Sweeney ran for a doctor and when he was unable to locate one, came back to the scene where he was taken into custody by city police. Boy witnesses said that while the two youths were not the best of friends, there was "no bad blood" between them.

Mileage Hearing Is Continued To Date Of Dec. 28

(International News Service)

COLUMBUS, O., Dec. 18.—Hearing on the plea of Arnett Harbage, West Jefferson taxpayer, to permanently enjoin the state auditor from paying members of the Ohio House of Representatives $21,000 for unincurred mileage, was continued from Dec. 21 to Dec. 28, today by Common Please Judge Charles A. Leach.

Judge Leach granted the delay at the request of Gilbert Bettman, a former state attorney general, who has entered the case with Attorney Agnes Dickinson as counsel for Harbage. Bettman has another case in New York courts on Dec. 21.

Thus the legislators saw vanish all hope of collecting the mythical mileage before Christmas.

Denied counsel by the attorney general, house members engaged their own lawyer to press their claim for mileage to and from their homes once each week from July 22 to Dec. 5, when the legislature technically was in session but actually did not meet.

Plans were made during the meeting for all first class scouts to spend the Christmas vacation at Camp John Phillips.

Details were also completed for the shoot Friday morning, in which the following boys who compose the rifle team will take part: Steve Yankura, Emmett Latimer, Roy Love, Joe Wilk, Victor Emery and George Dudo.

STOLEN GOODS CASE

The case of Westell Aiken, charged with receiving stolen goods, was taken up for trial before Judge W. Walter Braham at court this morning. It is claimed that Aiken, who runs a bicycle shop had bought a stolen bicycle. Aiken alleges he did not know the bicycle had been stolen at the time he purchased it.

On December 11, 1932, there were seven women receiving pensions as the result of service of husbands or fathers in the War of 1812.

AGAINST THE PEACE AND DIGNITY OF U. S.

(International News Service)

DALLAS, Tex.—Among the indictments returned by the federal grand jury here was one against Gustav Robert Pons, alias Dr. G. R. Pons, who, in Fort Worth, according to the bill, pretended to be a federal officer.

And assuming himself as such, continues the bill, "he did with knowledge obtain from Frank W. Sotolo a valuable thing, to wit, approximately fourteen hours of labor, of the approximate value of $7.

"All of which is against the peace and dignity of the United States of America."

No further details were made public.

MICHIGAN REPORTS EMPLOYMENT RISE

(International News Service)

DETROIT—A progressive increase in employment each month this year in Michigan, one of the states hardest hit by the depression, was announced by the State Office of the National Reemployment Service here.

Most of the job placements were in private industry and to private contractors, the Bureau reported.

The placement record for September — 12,234 — exceeded that of August by 1,257.

Total placements from January until the end of September were reported as 125,697, of which 63,967 were private placements.

During September jobs in private industry and to private contractors jumped to more than 83 percent of the total, the state office announced.

TRUCK GARDENS SHOW BIG REVENUE

HARRISBURG.—Truck crops this year retained their rank as the second most valuable Pennsylvania crop on the basis of cash farm income it is shown by a Federal-State Crop Reporting Service survey just made public by the Pennsylvania Department of Agriculture. Potatoes are the most valuable cash crop in the truck group.

Approximately 11 per cent of the total 1936 tomato production was shipped to market and about 70 per cent sold to canners and for manufacture. The balance was sold, used locally, or not harvested.

ANNOUNCES CUT IN INSURANCE RATES

HARRISBURG.—An average reduction of 2.2 per cent in Workmen's Compensation premium rates has been announced by Insurance Commissioner Owen B. Hunt.

This reduction, Mr. Hunt explained, actually represents a greater cut in rates in some cases, offset by an increase over the previous rate in others. The reasons for the precise changes are not always easy to define, he stated. In some cases, an actual decrease in the accident rate may have brought about a reduction in the premium while in others an increase in the average rate of wages would have the same effect.

LOCAL SANTA
89 YEARS OLD

To William Botham, of 713 East Main street, goes probably the distinction of being the oldest Santa Claus in Pennsylvania; and perhaps in the United States.

Mr. Botham, 89 years of age, looks forward to the Yuletide season with keen anticipation. Because of his love for boys and girls, Botham gets as much kick out of impersonating old Saint Nick as a kid does with a new toy. The East Main street resident has enacted the role of Santa for the past seven years. This year, he grew an extremely long beard.

Synopsis.

Carol, a little girl, has been sick and in order to make her Christmas more pleasant her little cousins, Timmy, Jimmy, Dolly and Polly, have been invited to spend Christmas with her and her sister, Sue. HARRISBURG, Dec. 18.—Youthful Jacob Gable had been granted his expressed desire today—to die in the electric chair for the brutal slaying of his neighbor in Johnstown, Mrs. Harriet Coltstein, 79.

So decreed the state board of pardons during the deliberations last night after hearing for the second time his application for clemency which Gable, 21, had outspokenly hoped would be turned down.

Week of Jan. 4.

Unless Gov. George H. Earle intervenes by granting a stay of execution or another—the fourth—respite, Gable must walk his "last mile" to the squat electric chair in Rockview prison the week beginning January 4.

For a few short minutes yesterday, J. H. Connell, Cresson attorney, pleaded that the youth be granted mercy on the grounds he was mentally unbalanced.

Attorney Charles J. Margiotti, a member of the board, however, pointed out that a "high class psychiatrist", Dr. C. H. Henninger of Pittsburgh, had examined the youth on the board's request and found him legally sane.

Wants To Die.

Hearing on the youth's application for clemency was continued from last month by the board for the purpose of a further investigation into Gable's mental stability. It was on the plea of insanity that Gable, against his expressed wishes, based his defense at his trial last February.

"I have very little new evidence for the board to consider," Connell said, "except that the defendant shows no interest in the outcome of the hearing."

"The boy didn't want a trial," he continued, "and only yesterday morning he shook hands with us and said, 'So long, I hope you lose'."

Connell said Gable has repeatedly told him "the state will be doing him a favor if it executes him."

BOY MAKES GOOD IN HIS OLD HOME TOWN

(International News Service)

STATE COLLEGE, Pa.—This is a story of a boy, who emulated Horatio Alger's heroes by going back to his home town and making good in a big way.

Harry Harrison, 144-pound pony halfback on Penn State's football team, went back to Philadelphia to sport his wares against the highly-touted University of Pennsylvania team. Gathering a kickoff he darted 94 yards through the Quaker eleven for a touchdown. It was the longest run made on Franklin field this season.

FOUR MEN BATTLE SNAKES WITH CLUBS

(International News Service)

STERLING, Colo.—Four Sterling men who set out to raid a rattlesnake den eleven miles southeast of here underestimated their enemy's strength.

As a result, they had to battle their way through hundreds of hissing reptiles with clubs as their only weapons and escaped uninjured only through sheer luck.

August Golgart, on whose farm is an arroya where snakes gather by the thousands for Winter hibernation; Sam Ard, Leslie Lowers and Carl George, went to the den armed with shotguns and 75 shells.

The shells were soon exhausted, and they found the ground about them literally alive with aroused snakes.

After clubbing their way through the slithering masses, the hunters returned to Sterling with scores of snakes and a quart vinegar bottle nearly filled with rattles. The largest" trophy" was about five feet long and sporting 14 rattles. The smallest was two feet.

German Stores Display Latest Synthetic Goods

Chocolate Bars Without Chocklate And Corks From Birch-wood

(International News Service)

BERLIN—German store windows are enticing the prospective customer's interest and pocketbook almost daily by displaying the latest in synthetic products.

The article that made an immediate hit with Germans was synthetic "chocolate", one of the substitute products of which Nazi Germany is most proud. Wrapped up in the ordinary paper and advertised as "paticularly nourishing and tasteful," it looks like a bar of creamy caramel and tastes somewhat like it. The only brown touch left to the German "chocolate" is the few raisins contained.

While its actual composition is not known, it is apparently a liberal mixture of milk, sugar and saccarine, replacing the cocoa formerly imported into Germany in large quanities. Those who have eaten as much as four bars in succession claim it gave no digestive trouble.

Another of the substitutes lately on the industrial market and apparently gaining wide favor is the synthetic cork. Round and made of birch, the cork is elastic by virtue of its three-layered manufacture, causing it to expand and seal tightly when wet. A special corkscrew is necessary to draw it from bottles. A Rhineland wine firm is said to have ordered several hundred thousand of these corks for this year's wine bottling.

STATE SHIELDS ITS LITTLE TREES

HARRISBURG—The State Department of Forests and Waters has put approximately forty million little trees to bed for their long winter's nap.

In the spring they will again be exposed to the warmth and light of the sunshine, and by April 1, be ready for spring shipment throughout the state.

Over 500 applications have already been received by the Department of Forests and Waters for trees to be delivered next Spring. Additional applications should be made promptly. Seedlings are quoted at $2.00 per thousand, and the planter pays the cost of transportation.

'Non-Cuddling' Seats In Paris 1937 Auto Show

Model Car Which Eliminates Back Seat Driver Is Constructed

(International News Service)

PARIS—Anti-cuddle seats and back-seat-driver-eliminators are the outstanding features of the present Paris Automobile show.

Christened by an enterprising advertising man, the anti-cuddle seat has room enough only for the driver, and the steering wheel is placed exactly in the center. It has been constructed by Penhard Levassor.

Continuing along this line, Panhard is also displaying a model which allegedly eliminates the back seat driver menace. It consists of a front seat which is large enough for one person to sit on each side of the operator—who thus can receive directions from each side of him rather than from the rear.

Another feature of the current show is a completely frameless wind-shield with half-inch thick non-shattering glass, in which the side-windows meet the ends without any opaque material intervening.

This innovation is found on the Delage which emphasizes perfect visability as a selling point.

American visitors at the opening day of the show received an unusual treat when, because of a cafe waiters' strike which forced most restaurants to close, they were invited to have lunch at the American Embassy cafeteria by Ambassador Bullitt.

New Reforms In Industry Are Suggested

Secretary Bashore Says Many Laws Need Revision In State

COMPENSATION LAW CHANGES URGED

By FREDERICK A. POLANGIN
International News Service Staff Correspondent

HARRISBURG, Dec. 18.—Broad reform measures to further "humanize" industry, including revision of the workmen's compensation system, were recommended today by Secretary of Labor and Industry Ralph M. Bashore.

Pointing out many laws were needed to strengthen the interests of capital and labor in this state, "the greatest industrialiy in the union," Bashore placed in the hands of Gov. George H. Earle recommendations that the following changes of the workmen's compensation system be sought at the 1937 general assembly:

Changing the present elective basis to a compulsory one; advancing minimum benefits from the $7 minimum to a $12 minimum and from $15 to a $25 maximum, changing total and partial disability law to provide compensation for life; granting compensation to widows for life instead of the 300-week limit; granting unlimited medical and hospital aid up to six months from date of accident; setting up a second injury fund; possibly creating a "monopolistic" state fund; extending the limit from one to two years for filing claims; changing act in reference to payments for specific member losses; creating a fund for self insurers, and putting "teeth" into law relating to filing of accident reports.

The Recommendations

Bashore also recommended the following:

1. Strengthen child labor law.
2. Provide that workers receive at least one week vacation with pay.
3. Strengthening of minimum wage law.
4. Provide for a 40-hour week.
5. Strengthen boiler inspection act, including an amendment to enable inspection of boilers in oil wells.
6. Amend elevator inspection law, giving department of labor and industry complete supervision over all elevators in the state.
7. Increase force of mines and quarries inspectors, with introduction of a fee system to meet additional costs, except in anthracite and bituminous mines.
8. Strengthen "bedding and upholstery" act by introduction of a fee system to remove possible contamination.
9. Abolishment of industrial home-work, thus taking a step towards elimination of "sweatshops."
10. Possible machinery to collect unpaid wages due employes.
11. Care of persons suffering from occupational diseases.
12. Strict supervision over congenital disease cases in industry.
13. Enaction of a "basic law" to define "definite scope of activity in the field of proper protection of life and limb of all persons.

POTATO GROWERS WILL CUT "MELON"

(International News Service)

HARRISBURG.—Value of Pennsylvania's 1936 potato crop will be enhanced by more than $3,000,000 because of the new grading and marketing program sponsored by the State Agriculture department, J. Hansell French, secretary, predicts.

"This increase in the income of Pennsylvania potato growers,' he said, "is accomplished by the elimination of waste in the marketing procedure and the raising of the whole level through the stabilizing effect of this state-wide marketing movement."

Table Tennis Used As Crime Antidote

(International News Service)

ST. LOUIS—Add the following to the many methods now being used by police and civic organizations of the United States to keep American boys out of crime:

"Get the boys to play table tennis."

This method was advanced here recently by Joseph Causino, assistant secretary of the South Side Y. M. C. A., in an address before the annual conference of the Boys' Work Council of Optimist International.

"You can break up a tough boys' gang with a table tennis set," said Causino.

Describing his work in forming self-governing boys' clubs in the poorer sections of St. Louis, Causino said that table tennis often served as a method of getting the boys' attention.

"The first time I carried a table tennis set into some of those tough neighborhoods, the boys wanted to have the first waltz with me," Causino said. "But before long they were organizing inter-club tournaments and forming the basis of worthwhile boys' clubs to replace the poolroom gangs."

TO LAY SIDEWALKS ALONG HIGHWAYS

HARRISBURG.—The governor's highway safety council has found a new ally in its drive to reduce highway accidents. The National Youth Administration will co-operate with the council in "lessening accidents due to walking on the highways."

The NYA will construct sidewalks to the outlying schools so that pupils and others will not have to walk on the thoroughfares.

Forty Five Henry Home Youngsters Are Eagerly Awaiting Christmas

Christmas, the biggest day of the year for the 45 boys and girls of the Margaret Henry Home, is being awaited with the keenest anticipation. The kiddies are so wrapped up in this coming Yuletide that they are actually counting the minutes, hours and days until Santa Claus will play his annual visit. That's how important December 25 is in the lives of these children.

Swarming around this New Castle Newsman, the children told the reporter all about the toys and other things they expect from Santa, yesterday afternoon. With broad smiles bordering their rosy cheeked faces, here is what a few of the boys and girls of the home expect Santa to bring them:

Vivian Fleeger, aged 9, a very bright girl, is particularly interested in a Shirley Temple doll, a baby buggy and above all, a box of candy.

Donnie McCain, aged 4, (called Ducky by his playmates who helped him decide) wants Santa to bring him: "a choo-choo twain, box of tandy, and a bike with license in the back."

Allen Hodge, aged 5, piped out the following order: car with foot pedals, teddy bear, and a car with license plates. "Don't forget candy," Allen concluded.

Suddenly, the clock on the mantle sounded two o'clock and the children turned their heads toward the fireplace, one remarked:

"Santa is listening."

Lawrence Grove, aged 7, wants sled, ice skate, and lots of candy.

Benny Evans, aged about 6, wants candy, ice skates, sled and a mouth organ.

Some of the children offered suggestions to their playmates.

"Don't forget Shep and Rudy Vallee."

Later, through Miss Henry, the reporter learned that Shep is the pet dog and Rudy Vallee is a bird.

After the children disappeared to continue with their play, Miss Henry stated that the toys are being donated by the Syria Temple, Pittsburgh, William Wray, of 602 Sumner avenue, who has enacted the role of Santa Claus for the past 19 years, at the home, will again conduct the customary Christmas eve program.

The Christmas eve proceedings are most coloreful to witness. The children go to bed early. At midnight, Santa Claus enters the home, goes directly to the children's bedrooms, rings bells and his horn and then ushers the youngsters to the living room which is cleverly illuminated. A giant tree, surrounded with playthings of all kndis, majestically stands in one of the corners.

For the next few hours, despite the hour of the morning, the children while away the time playing with their new gifts from Santa.

Unlike other years, stockings are not hung along the fireplace, Miss Henry said The size of the different toys is the reason for this.

"Turkey and all that goes with it will be served on Christmas Day," Miss Henry said.

As the reporter started his car, the youngsters, attracted by the sound of the motor, looked out and waved, as if to say,

"Don't forget."

Supreme Court On Eight-Man Basis

By WILLIAM S. NEAL
International News Service Staff Correspondent

WASHINGTON, Dec. 18.—The supreme court officially went on an eight-man basis today as the practice of "vouching in" the absent Justice Harlan F. Stone, who is ill, was abandoned.

Justice Stone will be confined to his home for several months and will take no part in decisions in vital New Deal and other cases to be decided during that period.

His absence and his refusal to vote on decisions may result in more 4-to-4 decisions. Justice Stone is a liberal and usually voted to uphold constitutionality of new legisation.

For several weeks after Justice Stone left the bench in October, suffering from dysentery, Chief Justice Hughes went through the daily formality of asking lawyers arguing cases to "vouch in" Justice Stone so that he could participate in decisions. The parctice was abandoned without explanation.

"Vouched In."

While the absent justice under the law can vote when the court decides cases, under custom he takes no part unless he is "vouched in". Thus far during this term Justice Stone has not participated, although this formality has been met.

One of the vital cases before the court—constitutionality of the the state of Washington minimum wage law for women—was argued with Justice Stone absent. Justice McReynolds also was absent at the opening argument before a seven-man court, but he was "vouched in" by the chief justice.

Important Cases.

Among the important issues now before the court in which Justice Stone might cast the deciding vote are:

Constitutionality of Wagner labor relations and railway labor acts, to be argued early in February.

Arms embargo law of 1934 and retroactive silver tax law.

Ashurst-Sumners anti-convict made goods law.

Other important issues which may reach the court before Justice Stone is able to return include the unemployment insurance tax provisions of the federal social security law, Ohio minimum wage law, Alabama state unemployment insurance law and Frazier-Lemke farm moratorium.

Regular Attenders.

Thus far during the term the other eight justices have been usually regular in their attendance despite their advancing age. Justice Brandeis, senior of the court at 80, has not missed a day's attendance thus far because of illness.

Whether Justice Stone's illness will handicap the administration in defending constitutionality of laws is problematical. His absence would make no difference in many four-to-four decisions, but in others it might result in a long delay in final settlement of a constitutional issue.

HIS NAME IS LAZI, NOT HIS APPETITE

(International News Service)

BUDAPEST—A thin little man, Lazi Szebo, won a bet with the proprietor of an inn at Kapasver, western Hungary by, consuming in one meal a whole roast goose, six plates of brawn, two pounds of roast goose liver, three "salamis", six loaves of bread, and half a gallon of wine.

The little man entered the inn and demanded something to eat. When the waiter showed him the menu, he shook his head and said: "That's not real food."

Then he demanded the goose, the brawn, the liver and all the rest of the gigantic meal.

The proprietor hurried along to his table.

"If you can eat all this," he challenged, "I will charge you nothing."

"It's a bet," countered Szebo. And he set to.

Within an hour, he had eaten everything.

"Is there anyone who would like to buy me a second course to this snack?" he asked.

Expenses Must Be "Cut Down"

(International News Service)

WASHINGTON, Dec. 18—President Roosevelt and speaker Bankhead found themselves in agreement today that government expenses must be cut down as much as possible at the coming session of Congress.

"The president is as anxious to get back to a balanced budget as any of us," the speaker said, as he left the White House.

Bankhead said he discussed the mechanics of reorganization of the house and the appointment and the committees with Mr. Roosevelt. The matter of the Demacrotic floor leadership was not touched upon, he said.

Still, if a Roosevelt can marry an economic royalist, why all this fuss about an American marrying the king?

THE PARENT PROBLEM

By Garry C. Myers, Ph. D.

IS THERE A SANTA CLAUS

THIRTY NINE years ago, little Virginia O'Hanlon wrote to the editor of the New York Sun

"Dear Editor: I am eight years old.

"Some of my friends say there is no Santa Claus.

"Papa says, "If you see it in the Sun it is so.

"Please tell me the truth, is there a Santa Claus?"—Virginia O'Hanlon, 115 West Ninety Fifth street."

This letter was answered in the Sun by Mr. Francis P. Church, the chief editorial writer, and his answer probably has been reprinted more millions of times than any other newspaper article ever written Here it is:

"Virginia, your little friends are wrong. They have been afflicted by the skepticism of a skeptical age. They do not believe except they see. They think that nothing can be which is not comprehensible by their own little minds. All minds, Virginia, whether they be men's or children's are little. In this great universe of our man is a mere insect, an ant, in his intellect, as compared with the boundless world about him, as measured by the intelligence capable of grasping the whole truth and knowledge.

"Yes, Virginia, there is a Santa Claus. He exists as certainly as love and generosity and devotion exists, and you know that they abound and give to your life its highest beauty and joy. Alas! how dreary would be the world if there were no Santa Claus! it would be as dreary as if there were no Virginias. There would be no child-like faith then, no poetry, no romance.

No One Sees Him

"Not believe in Santa Claus! You might as well not believe in fairies! You might get your papa to hire men to watch in all the chimneys on Christmas Eve to catch Santa Claus but, even if they did not see Santa Claus coming down, what would that prove? Nobody sees Santa Claus, but that is no sign that there is no Santa Claus. The most real things in the world are those that neither children nor men can see. Did you ever see fairies dancing on the lawn? Of course not, but that's no proof that they are not there. Nobody can conceive and imagine all the wonders that are unseen and unseeable in the world.

"You tear apart the baby's rattle and see what makes the noise inside, but there is a veil covering the unseen world which not the strongest man, or even the united strength of all the strongest men that ever lived, could tear apart. Only faith, fancy poetry, romance, can push aside that curtain and view and picture the supernal beauty and glory beyond. Is it all real? Ah, Virginia, in all this world there is nothing real and abiding.

"No Santa Claus! Thank God he lives and he lives forever. A thousand years from now, Virginia, nay 10 times 10,000 years from now, he will continue to make glad the heart of childhood."

STONE AGE SKELETON

Who Robbed Who Puzzles Police

(International News Service)

CINCINNATI, O., Dec. 18.—Police are attempting to unravel a baffling catch-as-catch-can robbery in which they believe they have the culprit but aren't sure.

Picked up for drinking, Thomas Dameron, 34, told Lieut. Jacob Schardt he thought a man was being robbed in an alley.

While two policemen were checking his story, Edwin Gibson walked into the station and pointed out Dameron as one of two men who lured him into an alley, where he was robbed of his suit and overcoat.

Gibson said he was wearing the "other man's" clothes. He said Dameron and his companion told him a man had just robbed them in the alley and asked his aid.

Dameron's companion then accused Gibson of robbing Dameron's brother, Gibson said, and proceeded to relieve him of his overcoat and suit at the point of a knife, giving Gibson his own jacket and suit.

Who robbed who is the question that has Lieut. Schardt doing some heavy Philo Vancing.

HEROINES SAVE MAN FROM MADDENED BULL

GREENSBURG, Pa., Dec. 18.—Three broken ribs and body bruises were suffered by Robert Grove, a farmer of near Ligonier, yesterday when he was attacked by a bull, but Grove says be owes his life to the presence of mind of the women who enploy him. The Misses Elsie and Bertha Reininger armed themselves with clubs and pitchforks and beat off the animal, engaged in trampling Grove. Miss Elsie Reininger suffered a severe injury of the leg in her efforts to prod the bull away.

WASHINGTON AT A GLANCE

Rail Probe To Be Biggest One

Investigation Under Wheeler And Lowenthal Will Be Most Important Event

WILL REVEAL HIGH FINANCING

Central Press
Washington Bureau
602 Times-Herald Bldg.

By CHARLES P. STEWART
Central Press Columnist

WASHINGTON, Dec. 18.—Senator Burton K. Wheeler's investigation of America's transportation systems apparently is destined to be the biggest congressional inquiry in the country's history.

It is the Montana senator's quiz in the sense that he initiated it, as chairman of the upper congressional chamber's interstate committee, though a sub-committee, of which Wheeler also is chairman, is doing the actual probing.

The inquisition undoubtedly originally was suggested, however, by Max Lowenthal, Ferdinand Pecora's assistant investigator in connection with the inquiry which the senate's banking and currency committee conducted two years ago into American high financing. That was the nation's most formidable probe up to the time that congress launched it; it seems likely to look like small potatoes in retrospect, in comparison with the present one.

It already has unearthed startling means of law evasion by manipulators of the Van Sweringen rail properties.

LOWENTHAL'S CASE

Lowenthal thus far has not bulked as large in the transportation investigation as Pecora did during the banking quiz.

The late Senator Duncan U. Fletcher was chairman of the latter. He gave a free hand to Pecora and supported him loyally, but had not much to say on his own account. Senator Wheeler, a more aggressive personality, likes to do his own questioning, which overshadows Lowenthal somewhat.

Nevertheless, Lowenthal dug up the case. While helping Pecora he saw a relationship between financiering and transportation, and is the inspiration of the inquiry.

WHEELER A DRAMATIZER

This is not a reflection on Wheeler.

The Montanan has a sense of publicity—far better than the late Senator Fletcher's, perhaps better than Pecora's and possibly better than that of Lowenthal, who, to be sure, hasn't had much opportunity to prove himself except as an adviser.

Anyway, it was Wheeler who chose to make a start with an inquisition into the fashion in which George A. Ball, Muncie (Ind.) multi-millionaire manufacturer of fruit jars, managed to gain control, for a measly $3,000,000 or so, (of which merely $262,000 was in cash), of the Van Sweringens' $3,000,000,000 railroad (and miscellaneous) empire.

UNPAID DEBT

This was spectacular enough to attract the public's attention.

The transportation history into which the investigating committee must delve runs into the past for about a century.

For example, Charley Kelly of the staff of the railroad brotherhoods' weekly organ, "Labor", an expert of the first magnitude, mentions rolling stock, used at the time of the Mexican war, which never yet has been paid for. There have been fundings of indebtedness and refundings and refundings, but no final payment. In the meantime, presumably, the traveling public has been required to pay fares to meet this load of mounting obligations.

A TIMELY DEAL

But retrogressing so far is infinitely tiresome and complicated.

The dickering of the recently deceased Van Sweringens with George A. Ball, George A. Tomlinson and the Morgans is up to date and snappy.

One wonders how the Morgans, with a strangle-hold on $3,000,000,000 worth of properties, allowed Ball and Tomlinson, as the Mid-America Corporation, to scoop in the whole pot for $3,000,000 or so.

It would have been a mistake to start with the Mexican war; the Van Sweringens are so much more timely.

A LIVELY START

George A. Ball, the heir to the Van Sweringen three billions for an actual cash outlay, as Senator Wheeler expressed it, of "two first-class locomotives", is referred to in Washington as having bought a pig in a poke and found himself in possession of a huge herd of swine and an infinity of young piglets.

The 74-year-old multi-millionaire, who has remained obscure up to the present time, admits that he had no notion what he was buying.

It's a lively start on Senator Wheeler's investigation.

Max Lowenthal instigated it.

LEGION OF HONOR PLANNING EVENTS

Plans for future activities were discussed at the meeting of the Legion of Honor of the Valley of New Castle Consistory, in their rooms in The Cathedral last evening.

It was voted to have Family Night during February, and arrangements for going to Wheeling to assist in conferring of degrees were furthered. Rehearsal for the degrees will take place Sunday afternoon at 2:30.

Officers of the New Castle Lodge of Perfection, of the Valley of New Castle Consistory, A. A. S. R., are making preparations for their annual observance of the Feast of St. John, the Evangelist, which will take place Sunday afternoon, December 27, in The Cathedral.

The service will start at 3 o'clock and will be preceded by an organ recital on the Greer memorial organ which will last for a half hour.

The address of the afternoon will be given by Dr. Charles Alexander Platt, of Grove City College, and he will be assisted by pastors of the New Castle churches. There will also be other special music. The public has been issued an invitation to attend.

Lawrence Mission Program Postponed

Because of the death of Charles Ashton, brother of Superintendent G. L. Ashton, the Christmas program planned by the Lawrence Mission Sunday school for the 20th has been postponed to the 27th.

Isn't it remarkable how patiently "border incidents" can be endured when both sides are scared to fight.

New Project Head Greets Teachers

Plans Are Discussed For The Holiday Season With A Christmas Party For Students And Families

Thursday, Mrs. Agnes B. Howley, recently appointed project head of emergency education in Lawrence county, met with the adult education teachers on the program in the Y. W. C. A. auditorium, at which time she was introduced to the group by Elmer R. Patterson, district supervisor.

After Mrs. Howley had greeted the teachers plans were discussed for the holiday program and it was decided to have a Christmas program for the students of the adult education classes and their families in the Ben Franklin junior high school auditorium Wednesday evening, December 23, at 8 oclock. There will be three one-act plays presented by the members of the dramatics classes, as well as music by the choral groups.

Tentative plans for the new year were also discussed at this time, with a meeting of the teachers planned for January 9 in the Y. W. C. A. at 10 a. m.

And yet, the swellest bathroom in town may be the one where the tub is used least.

FOOTBALL SCHEDULE FOR 1937 IS ANNOUNCED

Intersectional Game Scheduled With Hammond, Ind.

Massillon And Martins Ferry Will Be Met Again Next Fall

Har-Brack Union New Comer To Card, Will Play Two Games Away

NEW Castle High school "Red Hurricane" football team will play its first big intersectional football game next fall, it was announced today by Faculty Manager Ralph H. Gardner in making known the 1937 list of games. Hammond, Indiana, runnersup for the Indiana state championship last year will be met at New Castle on Saturday, November 6.

The schedule will contain eleven games as usual. The only newcomer outside of Hammond will be Har-Brack High.

Five Double A Games

Five Class AA teams will be met next fall: Har-Brack, Beaver Falls, Butler, Washington and Midland. This is reuired to obtain consideration for the Class AA conference title.

Massillon High's famous Tigers, the team that whipped New Castle 13 to 0 here, will be met at Massillon next fall in either a day game on Saturday, October 30, or a night game on Friday night, October 29th, this has not as yet been decided.

Martins Ferry High the only other team to hang it on the 1936 "Hurricanes" will be back again, playing in New Castle on Saturday, October 16. Sharon High will be here for the big "Turkey Day" battle on Thanksgiving. Midland is back on the card the two weeks prior to Thanksgiving.

Hammond Coming Here

No doubt considerable interest will be created in the Hammond game here. It is as said before the first time that New Castle has played a big intersectional contest. This team is recognized as one of the best in the Chicago suburban district. Hammond is a town of 72,000 people. There is one high school, and an enrollment of about 3,000 students.

The Hammond colors are purple and white and they are known as the "Wildcats". Hammond has lost but two games in the past 20 some played in over two years.

Two Games Away

Only two games will be played away next year. New Castle going to Beaver Falls for either a Saturday or Friday night game on either October 1 or 2, this has not as yet been decided upon, and at Massillon.

Plenty of work ahead for Head Coach Phil Bridenbaugh and his boys before next September rolls around. The loss of 10 or 12 of the regulars this year will leave some big gaps to fill.

Faculty Manager Gardner has a knack of arranging fine schedules for the high school gridders and the one next year is perhaps the most attractive of the past several years for the fans, with so many home games.

Some Schedule

The schedule—
Sept. 10—Har-Brack Union, here.
Sept. 17—Butler High, here.
Sept. 24—Youngstown East, here.
Oct. 1—Beaver Falls at Beaver Falls.
Oct. 8—Washington High, here.
Oct. 16—Martins Ferry high, here.
Oct. 22—Warren High, here.
Oct. 30—Massillon High at Massillon.
Nov. 6—Hammond, Ind., here.
Nov. 13—Midland High, here.
Nov. 25—Sharon High, here.
Night Games—Har-Brack, Butler, Youngstown East, Washington, Warren, probably Massillon and Beaver Falls.

Of the 34 players which Coach Jock Sutherland of the University of Pittsburgh took with him when he left Wednesday night (Dec. 16) for California and the Rose Bowl game, two are products of New Castle high school.

Walter Raskowski, sophomore right guard, has played in every game during the regular season and will see plenty of action against the the University of Washington on New Year's Day, Raskowski weighs 190, is one of the best blockers on the Pitt team, and is one the fastest men on the squad.

Charles Fleming, midget end weighing but 162 pounds, has, despite his size, broken into most of the games this year and figures to see action against the Huskies on January 1. A sophomore, Fleming relieves Bill Daddio. He is one of the 10 Pitt players who are only 19 years old.

The team team arrives in California Saturday at noon (Dec. 19) and will go to priliminary headquarters at Arrowhead Springs, near Pasadena. Here the squad will work out daily until December 26, when workouts will be shifted to the Rose Bowl in Pasadena.

House-Indus League Will Resume Play

Three Fast Games Scheduled For Saturday Night At "Y" Floor

The House-Indus basketball league at the Y. M. C. A. will resume play on Saturday night with three fast games on the schedule. The first game will start at 8 o'clock.

The newly organized Gersons will meet the Keystone A. C. in the first game on the bill-of-fare, with Coach Earl Bauman throwing a tsrong lineup against the Keystones under Coach Andy "Coots" Venditto.

Castletons will meet the Universal A. A. in the second game, and the third game will find the Saks Big Five pitted against the Johnson Bronze A. A quintet.

Two Games Here Saturday Night

Union High Will Play New Castle Reserves In Preliminary At 7 O'Clock

ALLEGHENY HIGH IN MAIN GAME

Faculty Manager Ralph H. Gardner has arranged a double-header for the basketball fans for the lid-lifter here Saturday night. In the first game, the Union high varsity will battle the New Castle nigh Reserves. This game will start at 7 o'clock. Allegheny high of Pittsburgh, comes here to meet New Castle "Red Hurricane" five in the main game.

McNeil Is Veteran

On the Allegheny team will be McNeil at center, the young man who rated All-Scholastic in Pittsburgh city league last year, and regarded as one of the finest high school basketball players in Pittsburgh. He is a veteran o two or three years and a real mainstay. Last year Allegheny was put out of the W. P. I. A. L. tourney by Franklin Borough, the team that later gave New Castle a tough engagement at Beaver Falls.

The fans can rest assured that in Allegheny high the locals are bringing one of the best attractions of the year and incidentally it happens that this is the first home game for the Bridenbaugh tossers.

Bridenbaugh will no doubt start his strongest lineup tomorrow night in Dal Mumford, Nocera, Straussbaugh, Covelli and Adams.

Tickets for the game are 15, 35 and 50 cents, according to an announcement by Faculty Manager Gardner today.

Turtle Creek Tops Florida Team 33 To 7

(International News Service)

ST. PETERSBURG, Fla., Dec. 18 A 33-7 victory over the Florida Military Academy today ended Turtle Creek, Pa., high school's long journey to the southland for an intersectional post-season game. A brilliant passing attack baffled the southerners and held them at bay.

Trosky Led League In Runs Batted In

Figures Reveal That Indian Star First Sacker Drove In 162 Runs

New York Yanks Broke Number Of League Records During 1936 Season

(International News Service)

NEW YORK, Dec. 18.—Harold Trosky, Cleveland first baseman, shared American League honors with a number of New York Yankees last season in driving runners across the plate, official averages released reveal.

Trosky, who hit .343 to help the Indians clinch the club batting title, took the individual runs batted in crown with a total of 162 for the season, which was the lowest winning mark since 1929 when Al Simmons was tops with 157.

Yanks Smash Records

The Yankees set the pace otherwise in the last campaign, as they stampeded to the American League pennant, smashing records as they rolled along.

Those they cracked included their own major league record for runs batted in by a club. Their 995 displaced their own previous high of 991 set in 1931.

On their way to that grand total they topped the record for runs batted in during a single game by a club and threw in an individual performance worthy of note.

They belted home 25 runs against the Athletics in one game to break the record of 23 set by the A's in 1929, and during the Yankee spree Tony Lazzeri drove in 11 runs for a new individual one-game mark.

In another contest, Joe Di Maggio tied the league record for most runs batted in by a player in one inning, his total being five.

Lazzeri, Di Maggio, Lou Gehrig, Bill Dickey and George Selkirk combined to give the Yankees still another new standard, each of them bringing home more than 100 runs. The previous high was four players over the century on one club during any one season.

Incidentally, Gehrig tied Babe Ruth's record of batting in more than 150 runs in each of six seasons. Larruping Lou's total for 1936 was 152.

Run Record Broken

Joining in the carnage, the league as a whole set a new record with 18 players driving in 100 or more runs, and added still another with a total of 4,847 bases on balls.

An individual record not likely to cause any envy was made by Jimmy Foxx, the Boston Red Sox first sacker. In fanning 119 times he topped all other "Caseys at the bat" for the sixth time—another brand new high.

GAME TONIGHT

Tonight on the Lincoln-Garfield floor, the Lincoln Tigers will oppose the Cities Service, formerly the DeHarts. The game starts at 6:30 o'clock.

A fast game is predicted.

HERE AND THERE IN SPORTS' LAND

Teddy Yarosz defeated Eddie Maguire, middleweight champion of Ireland, with ease in a 10 round bout last night at Pittsburgh. Jack Lenihan, lightweight champion of Ireland, passed out in the fourth round of a bout with Harry Krause of Pittsburgh but Mossie Condon, a rugged welterweight, who is said to be the Irish champ at that weight, scored a technical knockout over Jimmy Saunders of West New York, N. J., in the third round. Lloyd Pine defeated Jackie Carter in a preliminary. They stole the show from the rest of the fighters.

Uncle Sam dug deep into his jeans for around $10,500,000 of emergency relief funds during the past 18 months to build and improve golf courses. The big splurge occurred last year when the government financed work on 306 courses, scattered throughout the country.

Mrs. Emil Denemark's Uneasy, broke the ice at Tropical Park, Fla., yesterday when he won by a neck in the Winter Haven purse, a dash of five and half furlongs for juveniles that held the honored spot on the race card. Conservatives was second and Bain Marie was third.

Franklin Faculty Tops Washington

Ben Franklin Teachers basketball team handed the Washington High teachers their second defeat of the year yesterday at Washington floor 23 to 19, with Danny Racippo the Franklin flash turning the tide in the final quarter.

The series will be resumed after the Christmas holidays.

Winter Halts Work On Union Township High Athletic Track

Running Track Nearly Completed; Work Will Be Resumed In Spring

Work has ceased on the track which is being constructed at Union township high school. According to R. F. Conway, supervising principal at the school, work on this project will be renewed during the early spring months and it is hoped that it will be completed for the track season next year.

The track is being constructed about the football field immediately to the rear of the school building. It is one-quarter mile around, has a beautiful stone curb the entire way around and a stone base. The bed of the track when completed will be of ashes and will be 14 feet wide.

There still remains a small portion of grading work to be finished and additional ashes hauled before the track may be put into use. Work was started on this task about one and one-half years ago. The work was not steady however, it being stopped at various intervals because of weather conditions and many other factors which hindered its construction.

Plans are now being formulated whereby a track team may be formed at the school, and it is hoped that a number of other teams may be formed in the district now that they have a place to train and hold their meets. This is a regulation size track and may very easily be used for competent meets.

FROM ME TO YOU

By MESEEALL

Yep, yep . . . I have a date for the dance Saturday night. A letter just came in and I have made up my mind. The letter was very forceful and I just can't turn it down. Here, see if you don't agree with me. Here is what she writes . . . "I'm the girl you're going to take to the dance this weekend. I know you're going to love me. I have big green eyes, beautiful false teeth, removable hair, and I'm just pleasantly plump, weighing only 225 pounds." What do you all think, very nice, eh what. She calls herself Petunia. A very pretty name, Alright Petunia I'll meet you at the corner of Mercer and Falls streets, at 8 o'clock, Saturday night.

Petunia, also said something that makes me wonder just what she meant. She says "It must make you feel wonderful to have millions of people reading and talking about your mentality." I wonder if she can mean what it sounds like. (Sigh), but not the kind you mean Petunia.

You know Petunia that your hand writing looks very, very familiar. Especially when you started to talk about Orchids. Oh no, it couldn't be.

Tonight I am going to a turkey dinner. It is one of the best dinners you could possibly attend. Very few people are invited and those that are invited will surely enjoy it. About 400 are expected to attend and just think I am not one of that 400. I will be there in another capacity. Remember 400, don't eat too much turkey.

* * *

If you are looking for Christmas Tree bargains please read this page. Some of the finest trees in the world are right here in New Castle. I personally inspected all the advertised places last night. I thank you.

Stock Market Steady Today

Aside From Bulge In Utilities List Is Quiet And Irregular

By LESLIE GOULD
International News Service
Financial Writer

NEW YORK, Dec. 18.—The stock market steadied today but aside from a bulge in utilities and a few specialties the list was quiet and somewhat irregular.

Standard Gas issues dominated transactions in the utility sector, chalking up gains running to more than two points with the four per cent preferred rising into new high ground. Electric Power & Light, American Water Works and Public Service of N. J., were fractionally improved.

Steel shares firmed as U. S. Steel, Youngstown Sheet and Tube and Otis Steel moved behind plus signs, while Bethlehem recovered its early point loss.

Small losses were sustained by General Motors and Packard while Chrysler held at its previous close. American Smelting, Kennecott and Phelps-Dodge were easier.

Strength in Southern Pacific, Illinois Central and Pennsylvania featured an otherwise dull rail list. The first two rose about a point, with Pennsy close behind.

Oils were sluggish, except Texas Corp., which spurted above 50. Aviations were mixed.

Panther Players Determined To Win In Coming Rose Bowl Game

(International News Service)

KANSAS CITY, Mo., Dec. 18.—The University of Pittsburgh's football squad, with Pasadena and the New Year's day Rose Bowl game with the University of Washington their ultimate destination, were enroute to Albuquerque today where they will practice in the University of New Mexico stadium. From there they will proceed to Arrowhead Springs, Cal., where training quarters will be established.

The squad of 34 players took a brisk walk on the station platform during a brief stop here yesterday. Averell Daniel, huge tackle, muttered:

"We're going to California to win. We haven't all the experience in the world, but we have plenty of fight and a gang of boys who like to play football. We're going to start the new year right."

Coach Jock Sutherland refused to make any predictions. With the exception of Bobby La Rue, halfback who is nursing a pulled leg tendon, the squad is in good condition but needs a workout, Sutherland said.

East Brook To Play Bessemer High Tonight

Section 22 Game At East Brook Floor Will Be Important One

East Brook High school basketball team will play Bessemer High tonight at the East Brook High floor in an important Section 22 engagement. The girls of the two schools will play the preliminary game at 7:30 o'clock, it was announced.

Coach Dee Emerick will have to start the game tonight without the services of his star guard Jameson, who is out of school by illness. His place will be taken by either Downing or "Butch" Kimmel.

Gardner and Reed will take care of the forward jobs and Finnegan will handle the center jump position.

Bessemer High under Coach J. K. Fredericks will make it tough for the East Brookians, no doubt as the Limestone boys have another crack quintet this year, it is reported.

lice and Patrolman Robert Campbell of Mercer were riding, it was charged.

One Bandit Captured.

After exchanging shots with them, the two holdup men left their car and fled across a field, police said. Lance was later arrested as he walked along the highway, bleeding from cuts and scratches such as might be suffered in running through underbrush.

Clair Ashbaugh, victim of the holdup, said the loot was $150.

The filling station, of which he is part owner, is located on the Perry highway at the intersection of the Sandy Lake road, practically in Mercer. He was alone there last night at about ten minutes to nine when an automobile drew up and the driver, lone occupant of the car, got out and said to "fill it up".

Ashbaugh started to fill the tank when the man put the point of a gun in his back. At the same time another man appeared from behind the station and went inside. An automobile carrying two women happened to pull into the station and the gunman told Ashbaugh to continue his work as though nothing was occuring. Meanwhile he and his companion escaped in their car with the money from the cash register.

Police Chase Car.

Ashbaugh notified police and as they searched the countryside they spied an automobile answering the description and gave chase. The driver, they said, refused to stop and atempted to force the police car from the road.

The two machines roared through the countryside to a point on the old Sharon-Sharpsville road, three miles from Mercer, where the fugitive car was abandoned in a ditch. Two men left the car and fled across the corn field, the officers following.

A gun battle ensued, police said, but both men got away. Two hours later police picked up Joseph Lance on the old Sharpsville road about two miles from the scene of the shooting. His clothing was torn and he was cut and scratched. Cash amounting to $120.75 was found on his person.

He admitted his part in the robbery, according to police, and implicated Don Conrad, 24, of Cresson, as his partner. He said that he believed Conrad had been injured in the exchange of shots; disclaimed having used a gun, and no gun was found on him

In the abandoned car, which is said to be owned by Lance's grandmother, were found an extra suit of clothes and a jacket. Police are holding the car. Lance is in jail awaiting a hearing.

Second Robbery Occurs.

While the posse of state and city police, farmers, American Legion members, sheriff and others were combing the countryside in search of the second fugitive, another stickup was pulled off at a gasoline station right in the center of Mercer this morning at 3:15 o'clock and the lone bandit, on foot, got away with $27.

It is not known whether or not this was Conrad but the description seemed to tally somewhat to that given of him.

Clark filling station, scene of the second robbery, was being operated by Raymond Cousins. He was busy cleaning the office when he looked up to see a man at the cigar counter. The man pulled a gun and said quietly, "Give me the money." Cousins handed the bills over to him and the man walked out in the direction of the Meadville road. He has not been seen since.
